Hoover Gets 21-Gun Salute

Berlin, Nov. 26 (AP)—Former U. S. President Herbert Hoover received a 21-gun salute and military honors in Berlin today as he neared the end of a five-day visit to Germany.

Hoover reviewed an honor guard of steel-helmeted U. S. troops at American headquarters here while a company of tanks fired the presidential salute. Then he visited a day center for refugee children.

The high point of Hoover's 24-hour visit to Berlin was a speech tonight at West Berlin city hall on Resistance to Communism.

The 80-year-old former chief executive arrived in West Germany last Monday at the personal invitation of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Berlin Resisting 'Red Atheism,' Hoover Declares

Berlin, Nov. 26 (AP)—Herbert Hoover declared tonight surrounded Berlin has done its duty well in resisting the advance of "Red atheism."

IT BEHOOVES other areas of the world to profit by the example, the former President of the United States declared.

Hoover, winding up a five-day tour as a guest of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, addressed the West Berlin city Senate after signing the "golden book" and joining with German and allied officials in a banquet.

In a prepared speech, the 80-year-old ex-President told the Berliners:

"I do not need to discuss the value of freedom with you. You live cheek to jowl on the boundary behind which you daily witness the naked poverty, the inhuman toil, the terror, the repressions of the mind and spirit which the Communists inflict upon your own compatriots."

"YOU FACE AN enemy that lives just across the street. You have seen your duty and you have performed it well. You can, like the men of ancient Athens, hold your heads high and say, 'I am a Berliner.'"

Hoover called the German leaders of West Berlin and West Germany "front line soldiers" in the cold war and commented that they may well share in the world's current feeling that east-west tensions have been somewhat lessened of late. Nevertheless, he said, the Communists are still confronting the west with three problems:

Equalization Table Is Adopted by Supervisors

2 Reasons: School Aid And Rates

Fears Area Loss In New Governor

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson has sent a memorandum to Speaker of the Assembly of the State of New York, Oswald D. Heck, and other legislative leaders, urging that they request Governor Dewey to immediately call a special session of the legislature for the purpose of enacting laws to continue the "freeze" of the present formula for allocating state aid for education and to enact other legislation dealing with state and county equalization rates and the procedure for reviewing such rates.

THERE HAS BEEN fear that under the incoming Harriman administration state aid for education may be seriously affected to the detriment of many school districts, including the city of Kingston and others in Ulster county.

According to Assemblyman Wilson, there is grave danger that the present amounts received as state-aid by Ulster county school districts will be radically reduced under the new incoming Democratic governor, unless the legislature acts prior to January 1.

TO SAFEGUARD against such an adverse result, Wilson said he feels that a special session should be promptly called so that necessary legislation can be passed by the Republican legislature and signed by Governor Dewey prior to December 31. He further stated that he feared that if such legislation were deferred until the new governor assumes office on January 1st there is a grave danger that, despite some ambiguous campaign statements to the contrary, Governor-elect Harriman would veto the law. The effect of such executive action would, according to Assemblyman Wilson, be disastrous to Ulster county's school districts. He cited as an example, the city

ACCUSED—George Junior McCoy, right, of Grundy, Va., and Robert Carl Parker, left, of Washington, D.C., were accused Nov. 24 by the FBI of being responsible for death of William Remington in federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, W. Party Vote Is 22-8 on Resolution

Rates Approved For County, City

A county equalization table was adopted Wednesday evening by the board of supervisors by a party vote of 22 to 8, with Democratic members of the board objecting to adoption of a table which was first presented by the committee on equalization at a Republican caucus just prior to the meeting.

THE DEMOCRATIC members objected to adoption of a table which they had not had time to study, Supervisor Gaffney of Lloyd said, and he moved to table the committee report until next meeting in order to have more time to study the table. Gaffney said the state had spent five years making a study of the matter and had come up with a state table produced by men who were experts on real estate values and he said the state table of rates should be adopted.

The motion to table the committee report was lost by a vote of 21 to 9.

Although they had advocated adoption of the state table, there was no resolution offered by the Democratic members of the board to approve the state table and no other equalization table was offered by the minority members.

THE RATES approved under the McHugh resolution were:

Denning 60, Esopus 69, Gardiner 45, Hardenberg, 72, Hurley 90, town of Kingston 84, Kingston City 95, Lloyd 57, Marbletown 87, Marlborough 61, New Paltz 45, Olive 55, Plattekill 37, Rochester 62, Rosendale 49, Saugerties 52, Shandaken 88, Shawangunk 70, Ulster 63, Wawarsing 51 and Woodstock 63.

PRIOR TO the vote on adoption of the equalization committee report, Supervisor Fiore of the fifth ward said he was a member of the committee but had not been called in or consulted on the equalization table which was now being presented. He said he was against the rates and favored the state table. He asked why he had not been notified as a member of the equalization committee.

Supervisor Relyea of Hurley said none of the members of the committee had been notified and all had the same opportunity to inspect the table which was offered at the caucus.

GAFFNEY THEN objected to action on the report and moved to table it. He said no one had seen the table until it was shown in caucus and he asked "how can we come in here cold and vote on any rate?" He said he had favored the state table even before he knew what it was because the state had spent five years making a study and he

Bizarre Mishaps Kill 5, Same as Road Deaths

Albany, Nov. 26 (AP)—Bizarre mishaps over the Thanksgiving holiday took as many lives as traffic accidents did.

An exploding stove, a stray bullet, fumes seeping from a faulty gas heater. These claimed five lives yesterday. As many persons died on the highways.

The exploding stove killed a 38-year-old housewife as she was preparing Thanksgiving dinner at her home in Spring Valley, Rockland county.

Pressed for cooking space on her electric stove, Mrs. Lucy Stein started up an old wood-burner, unused for years. It blew up and a fragment killed her. Her 4-year-old daughter, Susan, was injured seriously. Her husband, Harry, 42, was not hurt but collapsed from shock.

POLICE SAID the water heating unit on the stove had been sealed off, but some water apparently remained in the tank.

The gas victims were three elderly persons found dead in a cold-water flat in Queens. They were identified as Rudolph Stolver, 77; his wife Rosa, 67, and Rudolph Tittman, 70, a relative who lived with them.

Dr. Leona Baumgartner, New York city health commissioner, said they died of gas fumes given off by a faulty hot water heater. The deaths brought to 16 the number of gas fume fatalities in the city in less than three weeks.

The bullet cut down a hunter about 35 miles from Times Square—the first hunting fatality in the metropolitan area.

The victim, 47-year-old Frederick Rowley of Central Nyack,

Stang Names Bus Route For 3d Ward

Mayor Frederick H. Stang said today that he has proposed a definite route for buses of the Kingston City Transportation Corp., to provide service in the area of the county infirmary on Flatbush avenue and Colonial Gardens in the Third ward.

The buses, after leaving Hasbrouck avenue and East Chester street, he said, could proceed over the latter to Flatbush avenue, passing the infirmary and Colonial Gardens to Downs street and Foxhall avenue and over the latter to Broadway.

This plan, he noted, would also provide service for the area between Downs street and Broadway on Foxhall avenue, which now has no service.

Labor Peace, End Of Pier Rackets Aim of Contract

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—New hope for labor peace and for an end of rackets on the port of New York waterfront was expressed by officials today as machinery was set in motion for ratification of a two-year union-company agreement.

Terms for a contract covering the 30,000 dock workers in the port will be put to votes of the union members and 170 employers.

Commissioner John A. Burke of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service says the agreement "practically" eliminates the "shape-up" system of hiring which has been blamed for a major part of the evils that have infested the docks for many years.

A no - strike - no - lockout - no-work-stoppage clause in the pact caused optimism in the maritime industry which has been plagued by strikes that caused multi-million-dollar losses and diversion of commerce to other harbors.

AGREEMENT ON TERMS for a contract were reached at 5 a. m. yesterday, after 14½ hours of continuous negotiations, by committees of the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) and the New York Shipping Assn. The association represents the 170 major waterfront employers.

The agreement came less than three days before the scheduled end at midnight tomorrow of a 45-day truce period in the industry. The truce followed a two-day strike last month.

The union made no threat of a new strike Saturday midnight but, nevertheless, marathon negotiations with the aid of federal and city mediators were held to hammer out an agreement before the end of the truce.

The agreement gave the dock workers a union shop, the first in the industry on the north Atlantic coast; a wage, pension and welfare package of 17 cents an hour; and a clause requiring an employer to notify the union a day before a man is to be hired, and to guarantee him at least four hours of work in most cases.

BURKE SAID the notification

Hearing on Viaduct Elimination Is Dec. 16

Mayor Frederick H. Stang and Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy were notified today that a hearing will be held Dec. 16 at 10 a. m., at the court house on the city's application to the Public Service Commission for elimination of the Washington avenue viaduct.

Common Council action earlier this year authorized Abernethy to seek the elimination order after Mayor Stang had requested the move, and the corporation counsel forwarded the petition several days ago.

Elimination of the structure, which is more than 40 years old, was sought after it was noted that the state did not consider that traffic bottleneck in its arterial route plan.

The state public works department, now planning the arterial route system, proposes a spur leading from a point near Albany avenue and Broadway, to connect with thruway interchange system at Route 28. This would span one railroad and the Esopus creek and would have a connection with Fair street extension.

The plan was reviewed here at

Third Inmate Charged In Remington Murder

Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 26 (AP)—The FBI today charged a third inmate at Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary today with the murder of William W. Remington, former government economist convicted of perjury, and in so doing provided the first clue to the motive for the slaying.

Norman H. McCabe, special agent in charge of the Philadelphia FBI office, announced that Lewis Cagle, Jr., 17, of Chattanooga, Tenn., has been charged with the murder of Remington on Monday.

McCabe said Cagle admitted in a statement "that he, along with McCoy and Parker, planned to ransack Remington's room on Nov. 22 and the assault took place while they were in his (Remington's) room."

The other two prisoners referred to were George Junior McCoy, 34, of Grundy, Va., and Robert Carl Parker, 21, of Washington, D. C., who were charged with participating in the beating administered to Remington with a part of a brick wrapped in a stocking.

Remington, who was serving a three-year sentence for perjury after denying he gave government secrets to Communist, died of a skull injury in the prison hospital Wednesday.

The clue as to the motive for the slaying ended speculation that the slaying might have have been an act reflecting anti-Communist feeling in the prison.

The FBI agent said Cagle was assigned to Lewisburg after his conviction in December, 1952 under the Federal Juvenile Delinquency Act.

CAGLE'S RECORD shows he was convicted of violation of the Juvenile Delinquency Act in 1951 and sentenced to three years interstate transportation of a stolen automobile. The sentence was imposed in Chattanooga, where Cagle lived.

He was paroled July 10, 1952 and in December of that year, the parole was revoked and the rest of the original sentence was re-imposed along with an additional 15 months for violation of parole. The FBI did not say what constituted the parole violation.

The development came less than 24 hours before these same prison gates are scheduled to open for Alger Hiss, the 50-year-old former State Department official who has spent three and a half years in the jail.

Five Are Indicted For TV Thefts

New York, Nov. 26 (Special)—Five men accused of the theft of between $10,000 and $25,000 worth of TV equipment, part of which was allegedly found in the home of a Rosendale man, were indicted by the New York county grand jury here Wednesday.

The five, charged with grand larceny, are James Dunn, 52, and George Johnson, 44, both of Yonkers, and Lennox Hollinsid, 61, Oswald O'Brien, 45, and his son, Oswald, Jr., 18, all of New York.

CHARGES of receiving the stolen goods are pending in Felony Court against Vincent O'Brien, 41, of Campbell street, Rosendale, brother of Oswald, Sr., and Michael DeFlorio, 40, of Bethpage, L. I.

Dunn, Hollinsid and Johnson were employed by Harvey's Radio Store at 103 West 43rd street, Manhattan, where the thefts took place, and Vincent O'Brien worked as a superintendent in the building next door. On weekends, his brother and nephew substituted for him and so, according to police, became involved in the case.

Detective James Pritchard of the 16th Squad says that he found $5,000 worth of the loot in Vincent O'Brien's home, another $5,000 worth in DeFlorio's home and at least $1,000 more in the basement where the Rosendale man and the other two O'Briens worked.

THE FIVE indicted today, at liberty in $2,500 bail each, pleaded innocent to the charge in General Sessions Court here.

A hearing on the receiving charge against Vincent O'Brien and DeFlorio is scheduled for December 3 in Felony Court. They, too, are out on $2,500 bail.

A large boulder rolled down the hillside near Whiteport Thursday, blocking a portion of one lane on the Thruway. The boulder was shoved off and traffic was delayed only slightly, it was reported by state police.

Red Propaganda Claims 13 Admitted Spy Training

London, Nov. 26 (AP)—Peiping radio said today the 13 Americans sentenced to prison terms as spies were given a public trial "at which they admitted having received specialist training in espionage and guerrilla warfare."

The Red Chinese radio was keeping up its drumfire of propaganda in the case of the 11 airmen and 2 civilians whose sentences by a military court to terms ranging from four years to life was disclosed by the Peiping regime on Tuesday.

ALL WERE captured during the Korean war. Both American and British governments have denounced the charges as false and a violation of the Geneva Convention on prisoners of war. The United States is trying to arrange a face-to-face meeting at Geneva with diplomatic representatives to take up the case.

The Peiping radio said Col. John Knox Arnold Jr. of Silver Spring, Md., commander of a B29 shot down Jan. 12, 1953, over North Korea, confessed in court he was engaged in intelligence work. He was sentenced to 10 years.

"Arnold, colonel of the U. S. 581st Air Resupply and Communications Wing, stated in court that his wing had not been committed in the Korean theatre and was attached to the U. S. Secret Intelligence Agency," the broadcast said.

IT GAVE no explanation of the long delay between the capture of the men and their trial. The trial date was not specified but apparently it was only recently held.

Peiping radio said the men were sentenced on Tuesday.

The radio gave this question and answer exchange which allegedly passed between the tribunal's chief judge—it did not name him—and John Thomas Downey, 34, of New Britain, Conn. Downey, a civilian employe of the U. S. Army, was sentenced to life.

THE JUDGE asked Downey his profession before his "arrest."

"I was in the Central Intelligence Agency of the United States," was the reply.

Chief Judge: "What training did you undergo?"

Downey: "I received espionage training, consisting of guerrilla warfare, weapons, small unit tactics, sabotage, the use of explosives, intelligence surveying, radio operating, parachute jumping, unarmed combat, map reading, etc.

Chief Judge: "What organization gave you such training?"

Downey: "The Central Intelligence Agency."

THE BROADCAST said Downey admitted under the judge's questioning that he helped in the training as spies of nine Chinese sentenced with the Americans.

Four of the Chinese were sen-

Blood Trail Leads Past Child's Room, State Says

Cleveland, Nov. 26 (AP)—Pretty Marilyn Sheppard's murderer dashed around her house leaving a trail of her blood and even paused at the bedroom of her sleeping little boy, Chip, the state suggested today.

The prosecution made this new point about Chip's bedroom in questioning Henry Dombrowski, a test tube detective who checked the trail of spots, most of which were invisible to the naked eye.

PICTURES of spots trailing from upstairs bedrooms all the way to the basement, the garage and both front and back outside doors were introduced. One speck, said Dombrowski, was on the threshhold to Chip's bedroom door and hitherto undisclosed spots were found in the room over the garage.

The police laboratory expert was a witness in the first degree murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, who is accused of beating his 31-year-old wife Marilyn to death last July 4 in the bedroom of their Bay Village home.

THE DEFANDANT'S story to investigators, and at an inquest, was that a bushy haired intruder killed his wife and in-

Commissioner John A. Burke of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service says the agreement "practically" eliminates the "shape-up" system of hiring which has been blamed for a major part of the evils that have infested the docks for many years.

A no-strike-no-lockout-no-work-stoppage clause in the pact caused optimism in the maritime industry which has been plagued by strikes that caused multi-million-dollar losses and diversion of commerce to other harbors.

AGREEMENT ON TERMS for a contract were reached at 5 a. m. yesterday, after 14½ hours of continuous negotiations, by committees of the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) and the New York Shipping Assn. The association represents the 170 major waterfront employers.

The agreement came less than three days before the scheduled end at midnight tomorrow of a 45-day truce period in the industry. The truce followed a two-day strike last month.

The union made no threat of a new strike Saturday midnight but, nevertheless, marathon negotiations with the aid of federal and city mediators were held to hammer out an agreement before the end of the truce.

The agreement gave the dock workers a union shop, the first in the industry on the north Atlantic coast; a wage, pension and welfare package of 17 cents an hour; and a clause requiring an employer to notify the union a day before a man is to be hired, and to guarantee him at least four hours of work in most cases.

Hearing on Viaduct Elimination Is Dec. 16

Mayor Frederick H. Stang and Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy were notified today that a hearing will be held Dec. 16 at 10 a. m., at the court house on the city's application to the Public Service Commission for elimination of the Washington avenue viaduct.

Common Council action earlier this year authorized Abernethy to seek the elimination order after Mayor Stang had requested the move, and the corporation counsel forwarded the petition several days ago.

Elimination of the structure, which is more than 40 years old, was sought after it was noted that the state did not consider that traffic bottleneck in its arterial route plan.

The state public works department, now planning the arterial route system, proposes a spur leading from a point near Albany avenue and Broadway, to connect with thruway interchange system at Route 28. This would span one railroad and the Esopus creek and would have a connection with Fair street extension.

The plan was reviewed here at

Five Are Indicted For TV Thefts

New York, Nov. 26 (Special)—Five men accused of the theft of between $10,000 and $25,000 worth of TV equipment, part of which was allegedly found in the home of a Rosendale man, were indicted by the New York county grand jury here Wednesday.

The five, charged with grand larceny, are James Dunn, 52, and George Johnson, 44, both of Yonkers, and Lennox Hollinsid, 61, Oswald O'Brien, 45, and his son, Oswald, Jr., 18, all of New York.

CHARGES of receiving the stolen goods are pending in Felony Court against Vincent O'Brien, 41, of Campbell street, Rosendale, brother of Oswald, Sr., and Michael DeFlorio, 40, of Bethpage, L. I.

Dunn, Hollinsid and Johnson were employed by Harvey's Radio Store at 103 West 43rd street, Manhattan, where the thefts took place, and Vincent O'Brien worked as a superintendent in the building next door. On weekends, his brother and nephew substituted for him and so, according to police, became involved in the case.

Detective James Pritchard of the 16th Squad says that he found $5,000 worth of the loot in Vincent O'Brien's home, another $5,000 worth in DeFlorio's home and at least $1,000 more in the basement where the Rosendale man and the other two O'Briens worked.

THE FIVE indicted today, at liberty in $2,500 bail each, pleaded innocent to the charge in General Sessions Court here.

A hearing on the receiving charge against Vincent O'Brien and DeFlorio is scheduled for December 3 in Felony Court. They, too, are out on $2,500 bail.

Red Propaganda Claims 13 Admitted Spy Training

London, Nov. 26 (AP)—Peiping radio said today the 13 Americans sentenced to prison terms as spies were given a public trial "at which they admitted having received specialist training in espionage and guerrilla warfare."

The Red Chinese radio was keeping up its drumfire of propaganda in the case of the 11 airmen and 2 civilians whose sentences by a military court to terms ranging from four years to life was disclosed by the Peiping regime on Tuesday.

ALL WERE captured during the Korean war. Both American and British governments have denounced the charges as false and a violation of the Geneva Convention on prisoners of war. The United States is trying to arrange a face-to-face meeting at Geneva with diplomatic representatives to take up the case.

The Peiping radio said Col. John Knox Arnold Jr. of Silver Spring, Md., commander of a B29 shot down Jan. 12, 1953, over North Korea, confessed in court he was engaged in intelligence work. He was sentenced to 10 years.

"Arnold, colonel of the U. S. 581st Air Resupply and Communications Wing, stated in court that his wing had not been committed in the Korean theatre and was attached to the U. S. Secret Intelligence Agency," the broadcast said.

IT GAVE no explanation of the long delay between the capture of the men and their trial. The trial date was not specified but apparently it was only recently held.

Peiping radio said the men were sentenced on Tuesday.

The radio gave this question and answer exchange which allegedly passed between the tribunal's chief judge—it did not name him—and John Thomas Downey, 34, of New Britain, Conn. Downey, a civilian employe of the U. S. Army, was sentenced to life.

THE JUDGE asked Downey his profession before his "arrest."

"I was in the Central Intelligence Agency of the United States," was the reply.

Chief Judge: "What training did you undergo?"

Downey: "I received espionage training, consisting of guerrilla warfare, weapons, small unit tactics, sabotage, the use of explosives, intelligence surveying, radio operating, parachute jumping, unarmed combat, map reading, etc.

Chief Judge: "What organization gave you such training?"

Downey: "The Central Intelligence Agency."

THE BROADCAST said Downey admitted under the judge's questioning that he helped in the training as spies of nine Chinese sentenced with the Americans.

Four of the Chinese were sen-

Blood Trail Leads Past Child's Room, State Says

Cleveland, Nov. 26 (AP)—Pretty Marilyn Sheppard's murderer dashed around her house leaving a trail of her blood and even paused at the bedroom of her sleeping little boy, Chip, the state suggested today.

The prosecution made this new point about Chip's bedroom in questioning Henry Dombrowski, a test tube detective who checked the trail of spots, most of which were invisible to the naked eye.

PICTURES of spots trailing from upstairs bedrooms all the way to the basement, the garage and both front and back outside doors were introduced. One speck, said Dombrowski, was on the threshhold to Chip's bedroom door and hitherto undisclosed spots were found in the room over the garage.

The police laboratory expert was a witness in the first degree murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, who is accused of beating his 31-year-old wife Marilyn to death last July 4 in the bedroom of their Bay Village home.

THE DEFANDANT'S story to investigators, and at an inquest, was that a bushy haired intruder killed his wife and in-

of Kingston which would in such an event suffer a loss of $350,000 over the next five years to be tapered off at the rate of $70,000 a year.

THE REVIEW procedure of equalization rates should also be the subject of consideration by the special session according to Wilson to eliminate all legal "gimmicks" under which upstate communities could be deprived of their just share of tax benefits.

State Senator John H. Hughes of Syracuse also has urged that a special session be called to pass laws protecting the present state-aid formula.

A communication sent out by A. W. Schmidt, assistant commissioner for Finance and School Administrative Services of the State Education Department, confirms the statement that the new rates would eventually mean a loss of "approximately $350,000" for Kingston and about $42,000 for the Onteora district. Aid for the latter district under the revised rate would be computed on the basis of a minimum grant thereby reducing the loss that would otherwise result from such a reduced rate.

Would Combine 4 State Agencies

Albany, Nov. 26 (AP) — Sen. Thomas C. Desmond today proposed creation of a state office to coordinate activities of four state agencies dealing with business.

The Newburgh Republican said he would introduce a bill at the next legislative session to establish an office of business promotion and regulation.

The office would be headed by a coordinator who would be responsible for the departments of banks, insurance, public service and commerce.

The coordinator would be paid $25,000 a year. He would not need a large staff, Desmond said.

He said his bill did not call for abolition of the departments but contemplated a shift in personnel between departments "as needs require."

"Many of these departments are engaged in similar activities," he said. "The office of business promotion and regulation would create the beginning of a real cabinet for the governor, instead of today's hodge-podge of numerous commissioners, each with his own relatively small problems, all eager to get the governor's ear."

Blood Trail . . .

He said he chased an intruder down the stairs and grappled with him on the narrow beach back of the Sheppard home.

The state's implication was that such an intruder would not have had time to leave such a long trail in so many places.

The state, through Dombrowski, also produced a tooth chip which the detective said he found under Marilyn's bed.

There was no testimony connecting the tooth chip with any individual.

THE CORONER'S office earlier had identified two ther chips—found on the bed with the murdered woman—as belonging to the victim.

Chalk marks and pointed pencils were used in the pictures to call attention to the blood spots, many of which were quite small.

The blood specks—running up and downstairs from basement to bedroom and from door to door inside and out—were detected by a substance called luminol.

THIS IS a liquid which Dombrowski said is sprayed on the suspected spot. This produces a bluish green fluorescence if the spot is blood, but does not indicate whether the blood is human or animal.

The jurors passed the photographs around from hand to hand, looking them over.

The trail, as Dombroski noted it from the photographs which Assistant Prosecutor Thomas J. Parrino handed him, included these places:

The north side of the living room; at the north threshold of the living room steps, from the kitchen to an upstairs landing; the hallway between the kitchen and the den; by the door on the south side of the living room; on a swinging door leading to the kitchen from the hallway; on the threshold of the second floor bedroom of the Sheppards' seven year old son Chip; from the base of the stairs to the second floor, around to the door into the porch leading to the beach; five spots on a chair mat at a desk in the den; the treads and risers on the top three steps leading to the second floor; steps leading from the garage to the floor above; the stairway leading from the kitchen to the basement.

Labor Peace, End

and work guarantee will practically wipe out the "shape-up" system, under which a hiring boss blows a whistle, the men line up at the pier, and he picks those he wants for the work gangs.

This system for many years has led to favoritism, blacklisting, pay kickbacks and other evils which have been assailed by reform groups and highlighted in federal and state investigations of waterfront crime and racketeering.

New York city commissioner of marine and aviation Vincent A. G. O'Connor said the agreement "should prove a strong factor in stabilizing labor relations in the port of New York."

Home Bureau

STONE RIDGE Home Bureau will hold a covered dish supper and Christmas party at the regular business meeting Wednesday, Dec. 1 at 7 p. m. at the Stone Ridge Fire Hall. Each member is to bring a covered dish and a gift.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—The stock market was higher today in a moderate manner in early dealings.

It was the fifth straight advance, and prices on average stepped into new high ground for the current bull market move at the highest levels since 1929.

Gains in a few instances went to between 1 and 2 points, but most were fractional.

Steels did well, and also higher were motors, utilities, oils, rubbers, aircrafts, airlines, and coppers.

Minus signs appeared in chemicals an radio-televisions.

More Home Rule

Berlin, Nov. 26 (AP)—The western occupation powers say ratification of the recent Paris accords on German rearmament will bring West Berlin the widest self government compatible with the security of the Soviet-surrounded city. In a "declaration of intent," the American, British and French commandants last night announced plans to amend the occupation statute to increase the authority of the West Berlin government. Although the city has a completely organized administration, it still is classed as occupied territory. American officials said specific acts to implement the declaration have not yet been decided.

Imitation Window Foils Burglar

Two apparent attempts at burglary were reported to the police over the holiday.

One attempt was especially futile, authorities noted, in that it was made at a window that proved to be only an imitation. It was one of the windows in the building of the Canfield Supply Co., off Broadway at the underpass, which had been backed up with a solid wall section.

The other attempt, reported Wednesday, was at Bruno's Bakery on Abeel street. Officers Louis Sapp, Jr., and Bernard Fowler, who investigated, said that a screen in a side door had been cut. An iron bar and a screwdriver were brought to headquarters.

Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons are investigating both attempts.

Hearing on . . .

the start of the year and state engineers were asked to change it and include provisions for traffic to and from routes 209 and 28, and the viaduct elimination.

Recent reports on the plan, however, indicated that no consideration has been given to elimination of the viaduct, but the plans are to be changed as to the bridging of the railroad and creek northwest of the city.

Abernethy has been assured that the New York Ontario & Western railroad will not object to elimination of the structure but spokesmen for the mountain branch of the New York Central line were noncommital.

The city proposes that the viaduct be eliminated and the railroads, which are now on minimum schedule, be crossed at grade with modern protective signals. The New York Central branch has only one train scheduled daily and the other line has a round-trip schedule every other day.

State engineers, representatives of the railroad and the city, along with many interested individuals, are expected to attend the hearing.

said some of the men who were involved were such experts on real estate as James A. Simpson, a former clerk of the Board of Supervisors. Gaffney also objected on adoption now and suggested the budget be made up first.

Supervisor Jesse McHugh, who offered the resolution for adoption, said the table had not been prepared in a hurry. The board had a budget committee and a budget officer and a careful study had been made of the matter. The table had been discussed for two hours in caucus. "Three days was spent on the table" said McHugh.

SUPERVISOR ECKERT stated the state had not used its new table for apportioning the school aid money, county highway assistance, rent controlls or special franchises. They used the 1948 rate. He said the table being offered had been given ample study.

Supervisor Cousins offered a resolution commending the committee of Public Welfare for its work in giving to the aged of the county the new County Infirmary which was opened this week. The resolution commended the action of the board in creating such an institution, Harry Halverson who was architect and the members of the committee, McHugh, chairman, and his co-workers Supervisors Bush, Coy, Elliott, Cocoran and Carroll. Special mention was made of Commissioner Edward Murray under whose jurisdiction the infirmary will be operated for the benefit and comfort of the aged and infirm of the county.

The board adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

Berlin Resisting

of relations between nations."

Their increasing armaments.

THEIR MILITANT promotion of the Communist faith "by propaganda, infiltration and conspiracy within free nations."

He said this is the first time in 6,000 years of human history that a group has arisen which seeks to set aside divine faith and replace it with "Red atheism."

Such infiltration can be met "only by moral and spiritual resistance," Hoover asserted and the first bastion is religious faith be it Christian, Jewish or Moslem.

Red Propaganda

tenced to death, four were jailed for life and one for 15 years.

According to the radio, Downey said he made two trips to Northeast China—one to drop supplies for spy team and the other "to pick up agent Pu Ching Wu and bring him back to Japan."

The radio also gave questions and answers between the judge and Richard George Fecteau, 27, Lynn, Mass., who was sentenced to 20 years. The Chinese Reds claim Fecteau and Downey were shot down together over Manchuria in November, 1952.

ACCORDING to this exchange, Fecteau said he was trained by the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency 'in demolition, weapons, the use of explosives, firearms, fighting in the woods."

The chief judge asked: "What was your mission in coming to China?"

Fecteau was quoted as replying: "My mission? My mission was to take back an agent."

Officials Hopeful Of Boomerang

Washington, Nov. 26 (AP) — Washington officials were hopeful today that Red China's imprisonment of 13 Americans as "spies" would boomerang against Peiping in the diplomatic struggles of the cold war.

Authorities here based this outlook on what they said were two likely results from reaction of the free countries of the world:

1. Communist China will lose support for its drive to win general diplomatic recognition and a seat in the United Nations.

2. British efforts for a compromise between Washington and Peiping on Chinese Nationalist-held Formosa will be dropped at least for the present. British officials indicated they shared this view.

Detained for Four Years

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—An American officer manager, detained for four years by Chinese Communists, arrived yesterday with his French wife and two children born in China. William Orchards, 36, manager of the American Express Co. Shanghai office, was met at Idlewild Airport by State Department representatives and a company vice president. The official, Frank Harding, told reporters Orchards would not be allowed to talk with the press or discuss his detention until after a State Department conference in Washington.

November Milk Price

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—A uniform price of $4.61 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) is forecast for dairy farmers for November milk deliveries to approved plants in the New York milkshed. The estimated producer butterfat differential for November is 5.4 cents a pound for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard. The figures were announced Wednesday night by Market Administrator C. J. Blanford.

Deer Carcass Found

Thanksgiving Day a report was received at the sheriff's office that a deer had been found lying in a field on the John Walker farm near the Sunset Drive-in Theatre. A deputy sheriff was assigned to investigate and the carcass was later brought to the court house and turned over to a game warden for disposition. Whether the deer had been shot or struck was not immediately known, Under Sheriff Clayton W. Vredenburgh said.

Counting Soldier Vote

The Ulster County Board of Elections met at its office on John street this morning to open and tabulate the soldier vote cast at the last general election. There were 112 soldier ballots sent out and of that number 79 ballots were returned for canvassing. The work of canvassing the vote and apportioning it to the proper election district is now in progress.

Approve Rearmament

Oslo, Norway, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Norwegian Parliament last night approved German rearmament and membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). The vote was 126-7 for ratification of the Paris accords. There were 17 absentees. Denmark also has ratified the agreements and a House of Commons vote has assured British approval.

2 Reasons: . . .

of Kingston which would in such an event suffer a loss of $350,000 over the next five years to be tapered off at the rate of $70,000 a year.

THE REVIEW procedure of equalization rates should also be the subject of consideration by the special session according to Wilson to eliminate all legal "gimmicks" under which upstate communities could be deprived of their just share of tax benefits.

State Senator John H. Hughes of Syracuse also has urged that a special session be called to pass laws protecting the present state-aid formula.

A communication sent out by A. W. Schmidt, assistant commissioner for Finance and School Administrative Services of the State Education Department, confirms the statement that the new rates would eventually mean a loss of "approximately $350,000" for Kingston and about $42,000 for the Onteora district. Aid for the latter district under the revised rate would be computed on the basis of a minimum grant thereby reducing the loss that would otherwise result from such a reduced rate.

Would Combine 4 State Agencies

Albany, Nov. 26 (AP) — Sen. Thomas C. Desmond today proposed creation of a state office to coordinate activities of four state agencies dealing with business.

The Newburgh Republican said he would introduce a bill at the next legislative session to establish an office of business promotion and regulation.

The office would be headed by a coordinator who would be responsible for the departments of banks, insurance, public service and commerce.

The coordinator would be paid $25,000 a year. He would not need a large staff, Desmond said.

He said his bill did not call for abolition of the departments but contemplated a shift in personnel between departments "as needs require."

"Many of these departments are engaged in similar activities," he said. "The office of business promotion and regulation would create the beginning of a real cabinet for the governor, instead of today's hodge-podge of numerous commissioners, each with his own relatively small problems, all eager to get the governor's ear."

Blood Trail . . .

jured him.

He said he chased an intruder down the stairs and grappled with him on the narrow beach back of the Sheppard home.

The state's implication was that such an intruder would not have had time to leave such a long trail in so many places.

The state, through Dombrowski, also produced a tooth chip which the detective said he found under Marilyn's bed.

There was no testimony connecting the tooth chip with any individual.

THE CORONER'S office earlier had identified two ther chips—found on the bed with the murdered woman—as belonging to the victim.

Chalk marks and pointed pencils were used in the pictures to call attention to the blood spots, many of which were quite small.

The blood specks—running up and downstairs from basement to bedroom and from door to door inside and out—were detected by a substance called luminol.

THIS IS a liquid which Dombrowski said is sprayed on the suspected spot. This produces a bluish green fluorescence if the spot is blood, but does not indicate whether the blood is human or animal.

The jurors passed the photographs around from hand to hand, looking them over.

The trail, as Dombroski noted it from the photographs which Assistant Prosecutor Thomas J. Parrino handed him, included these places:

The north side of the living room; at the north threshold of the living room steps, from the kitchen to an upstairs landing; the hallway between the kitchen and the den; by the door on the south side of the living room; on a swinging door leading to the kitchen from the hallway; on the threshold of the second floor bedroom of the Sheppards' seven year old son Chip; from the base of the stairs to the second floor, around to the door into the porch leading to the beach; five spots on a chair mat at a desk in the den; the treads and risers on the top three steps leading to the second floor; steps leading from the garage to the floor above; the stairway leading from the kitchen to the basement.

Labor Peace, End

and work guarantee will practically wipe out the "shape-up" system, under which a hiring boss blows a whistle, the men line up at the pier, and he picks those he wants for the work gangs.

This system for many years has led to favoritism, blacklisting, pay kickbacks and other evils which have been assailed by reform groups and highlighted in federal and state investigations of waterfront crime and racketeering.

New York city commissioner of marine and aviation Vincent A. G. O'Connor said the agreement "should prove a strong factor in stabilizing labor relations in the port of New York."

STONE RIDGE Home Bureau will hold a covered dish supper and Christmas party at the regular business meeting Wednesday, Dec. 1 at 7 p. m. at the Stone Ridge Fire Hall. Each member is to bring a covered dish and a gift.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—The stock market was higher today in a moderate manner in early dealings.

It was the fifth straight advance, and prices on average stepped into new high ground for the current bull market move at the highest levels since 1929.

Gains in a few instances went to between 1 and 2 points, but most were fractional.

Steels did well, and also higher were motors, utilities, oils, rubbers, aircrafts, airlines, and coppers.

Minus signs appeared in chemicals an radio-televisions.

Imitation Window Foils Burglar

Two apparent attempts at burglary were reported to the police over the holiday.

One attempt was especially futile, authorities noted, in that it was made at a window that proved to be only an imitation. It was one of the windows in the building of the Canfield Supply Co., off Broadway at the underpass, which had been backed up with a solid wall section.

The other attempt, reported Wednesday, was at Bruno's Bakery on Abeel street. Officers Louis Sapp, Jr., and Bernard Fowler, who investigated, said that a screen in a side door had been cut. An iron bar and a screwdriver were brought to headquarters.

Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons are investigating both attempts.

Hearing on . . .

the start of the year and state engineers were asked to change it and include provisions for traffic to and from routes 209 and 28, and the viaduct elimination.

Recent reports on the plan, however, indicated that no consideration has been given to elimination of the viaduct, but the plans are to be changed as to the bridging of the railroad and creek northwest of the city.

Abernethy has been assured that the New York Ontario & Western railroad will not object to elimination of the structure but spokesmen for the mountain branch of the New York Central line were noncommital.

The city proposes that the viaduct be eliminated and the railroads, which are now on minimum schedule, be crossed at grade with modern protective signals. The New York Central branch has only one train scheduled daily and the other line has a round-trip schedule every other day.

State engineers, representatives of the railroad and the city, along with many interested individuals, are expected to attend the hearing.

Equalization

said some of the men who were involved were such experts on real estate as James A. Simpson, a former clerk of the Board of Supervisors. Gaffney also objected on adoption now and suggested the budget be made up first.

Supervisor Jesse McHugh, who offered the resolution for adoption, said the table had not been prepared in a hurry. The board had a budget committee and a budget officer and a careful study had been made of the matter. The table had been discussed for two hours in caucus. "Three days was spent on the table" said McHugh.

SUPERVISOR ECKERT stated the state had not used its new table for apportioning the school aid money, county highway assistance, rent controlls or special franchises. They used the 1948 rate. He said the table being offered had been given ample study.

Supervisor Cousins offered a resolution commending the committee of Public Welfare for its work in giving to the aged of the county the new County Infirmary which was opened this week. The resolution commended the action of the board in creating such an institution, Harry Halverson who was architect and the members of the committee, McHugh, chairman, and his co-workers Supervisors Bush, Coy, Elliott, Cocoran and Carroll. Special mention was made of Commissioner Edward Murray under whose jurisdiction the infirmary will be operated for the benefit and comfort of the aged and infirm of the county.

The board adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

Berlin Resisting

of relations between nations."

Their increasing armaments.

THEIR MILITANT promotion of the Communist faith "by propaganda, infiltration and conspiracy within free nations."

He said this is the first time in 6,000 years of human history that a group has arisen which seeks to set aside divine faith and replace it with "Red atheism."

Such infiltration can be met "only by moral and spiritual resistance," Hoover asserted and the first bastion is religious faith be it Christian, Jewish or Moslem.

Red Propaganda

tenced to death, four were jailed for life and one for 15 years.

According to the radio, Downey said he made two trips to Northeast China—one to drop supplies for spy team and the other "to pick up agent Pu Ching Wu and bring him back to Japan."

The radio also gave questions and answers between the judge and Richard George Fecteau, 27, Lynn, Mass., who was sentenced to 20 years. The Chinese Reds claim Fecteau and Downey were shot down together over Manchuria in November, 1952.

ACCORDING to this exchange, Fecteau said he was trained by the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency 'in demolition, weapons, the use of explosives, firearms, fighting in the woods."

The chief judge asked: "What was your mission in coming to China?"

Fecteau was quoted as replying: "My mission? My mission was to take back an agent."

Officials Hopeful Of Boomerang

Washington, Nov. 26 (AP)—Washington officials were hopeful today that Red China's imprisonment of 13 Americans as "spies" would boomerang against Peiping in the diplomatic struggles of the cold war.

Authorities here based this outlook on what they said were two likely results from reaction of the free countries of the world:

1. Communist China will lose support for its drive to win general diplomatic recognition and a seat in the United Nations.

2. British efforts for a compromise between Washington and Peiping on Chinese Nationalist-held Formosa will be dropped at least for the present. British officials indicated they shared this view.

Detained for Four Years

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—An American officer manager, detained for four years by Chinese Communists, arrived yesterday with his French wife and two children born in China. William Orchards, 36, manager of the American Express Co. Shanghai office, was met at Idlewild Airport by State Department representatives and a company vice president. The official, Frank Harding, told reporters Orchards would not be allowed to talk with the press or discuss his detention until after a State Department conference in Washington.

November Milk Price

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—A uniform price of $4.61 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) is forecast for dairy farmers for November milk deliveries to approved plants in the New York milkshed. The estimated producer butterfat differential for November is 5.4 cents a pound for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard. The figures were announced Wednesday night by Market Administrator C. J. Blanford.

Deer Carcass Found

Thanksgiving Day a report was received at the sheriff's office that a deer had been found lying in a field on the John Walker farm near the Sunset Drive-in Theatre. A deputy sheriff was assigned to investigate and the carcass was later brought to the court house and turned over to a game warden for disposition. Whether the deer had been shot or struck was not immediately known, Under Sheriff Clayton W. Vredenburgh said.

Counting Soldier Vote

The Ulster County Board of Elections met at its office on John street this morning to open and tabulate the soldier vote cast at the last general election. There were 112 soldier ballots sent out and of that number 79 ballots were returned for canvassing. The work of canvassing the vote and apportioning it to the proper election district is now in progress.

Approve Rearmament

Oslo, Norway, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Norwegian Parliament last night approved German rearmament and membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). The vote was 126-7 for ratification of the Paris accords. There were 17 absentees. Denmark also has ratified the agreements and a House of Commons vote has assured British approval.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

"From Hard Work Comes Security." This old-fashioned sentiment appears on the coat-of-arms of a remarkable family in England, whose head was known as the "Meat King" of beef and mutton eating Britain.

Mr. Hutton

This business was founded years ago by a poor Liverpool lad who began to work for seven shillings a week. That was about $1.75, or $90 a year. What chance did he have in caste-ridden England?

But the poor lad's motto was "work." Besides, he had an idea. He was one of the first to see the opportunities in modernizing cold storage for meat — warehouses, ships, refrigerator cars, etc.

He became rich. While titled families were being impoverished by a life of ease and later by heavy taxes, the Liverpool lad became a Lord himself in recognition of a life of work.

He had the foresight to see that the Socialists would sometime tax estates up to 95%. So he established the legal residence of his business outside England. This enabled it to escape the death duties that have crippled a once proud country.

His son, Lord Samuel Vestey, aged 71, has just died. He worked to the end. Neither father nor son looked to the Government for security. They found it the way the bee and the ant find security—through work.

Is there a better way?

CHRISTMAS SEALS

In recent years amazing progress has been made in the battle of tuberculosis. In large measure it has been made possible by funds raised through the sale of Christmas Seals. The fact that progress has been made does not mean that the job is done. Far from it. Money is still needed and it is as important to buy Christmas Seals this year as it ever was.

The Christmas Seal way of asking for small contributions from many people gives the Ulster County TB and Health Association an opportunity to spread the truth about the disease to people in all walks of life. In Ulster County the money raised goes for promotion of free chest X-rays in the communities; rehabilitation worker for patients of Ulster County TB Hospital; health education through films, exhibits, classes, literature to schools, industries and community; contributions for medical research; mental health committee program; transportation for out-patient chest clinic and cooperative services with other health and welfare agencies.

With many of us the use of Christmas Seals has become a tradition. The time is approaching for the mailing of gifts and cards. The Christmas season is a time of unselfish giving and the few extra cents invested in the use of the Christmas Seals give our packages and cards a double value.

Each Christmas Seal used is a gift of hope to the unfortunate person afflicted with tuberculosis. Each seal is a step nearer eventual final victory over this dread disease. So buy and use Christmas Seals.

PREVENTINNG RUMORS

As every ex-serviceman knows, few things get around so fast as rumors. Usually the speed with which they are scattered is matched only by their inaccuracy.

American businesses are also plagued by "rumor mills." While the misinformation thus spread is often a harmless form of gossip, sometimes it works considerable harm. For instance, the home office of one national firm lost 15 of its valued employes within a two week period. Investigation showed they had left because of a false rumor that the office was to be moved to another state. Unfounded rumors also breed discontent, resentment and work interruptions.

It is known that rumors flourish in large organizations where there are poor communications between the top executives and the mass of employes. It is also known that the best way to prevent or stop rumors is by making sure that every employe is kept fully informed of the truth.

The National Industrial Conference Board, in an effort to stop unfounded rumors, has issued a booklet, "Communications With Employes," stressing the importance of oral communication and of learning the worker's viewpoint. It recommends small group meetings where rumors in circulation are analyzed and corrected. It also urges top executives to "feed" the rumor grapevine with the truth. Under this system, accurate information is passed along from employe to employe, from the president down to the office boy.

Top executives are learning that in the United States, where the employes represent an educated class, there is a need for a measure of democracy even in business. Employes are curious to know what is happening in the upper echelons of their companies. In the absence of accurate information, rumors start and flourish. Rumors can best be prevented by the truth.

An even tempered man is one who doesn't have to send the children out of the room when he hits his thumb with a hammer.

FIRST CLIPPER FLIGHT

On November 22, 1935, the China Clipper started across the Pacific with the first airmail flight. Island bases had been set up and the flight was given a great deal of publicity. In seven days the Clipper reached Manila after stops at Honolulu, Midway, Wake and Guam—names which were to acquire a significance years later because of the bloody battles for their control.

Aviation has come a long way since the inauguration of Clipper flights. It is no longer considered newsworthy to fly anywhere in the world. But it is easy to remember the thrill of hearing of the uneventful first flight of the Clipper which meant that new conquests of the air were possible.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE BI-PARTISAN POLICY

The value of the two-party system is that it provides a public forum for the discussion of public affairs, particularly differences of view in the national legislature, in an orderly fashion. The monolithic government, as practised by Mussolini, Hitler, Stalin, and now by Malenkov, evades the obligation of a free discussion. The Prime Minister of Great Britain must always anticipate a questioning of his conduct by Her Majesty's loyal opposition.

The bi-partisan foreign policy has the advantage of presenting a united front to the rest of the world; it has the disadvantage that it clothes in a cloud the conduct of government and keeps from the people the truth concerning current policies and events. The American people are entitled to know what took place at Teheran and Yalta, to say nothing of Quebec and Potsdam. They do not know the whole story to this day.

Sir Winston Churchill's last visit to this country was designed to convince President Eisenhower that there ought to be a conference of Eisenhower, Churchill and Malenkov. The impression prevailed in this country at the time that Churchill had failed. It is now apparent that we are being softened up for some purpose. There is talk of "Russian culture," as though that had anything to do with the brutality of Russian Communism. What did Tolstoy or Dostoievsky or Tchaikovsky or Glinka have to do with atheistic Communism which is a product of German Hegelianism and Marxism and not of Russian culture at all?

But everything is thrown into the melting pot of Administration propaganda to soften our people to a receptivity of a change of policy of some kind. Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson says that the only alternative to war is co-existence which is designed to frighten mothers into accepting any solution rather than to risk their sons, which is understandable. But any solution may turn out to be no solution at all because no one fears a coward and the current propaganda must give the impression that the United States is cowardly.

Who needs to be afraid of the big, bad wolf who threatens to retaliate "the next time" our planes are shot down—but it is always "the next time"? The Russians test our temper and always find that we speak strong but do not act at all. They who are building an empire by fear will soon learn not to fear us no matter what we say. And it is then that we shall have to be ready to stand or fall at Armageddon. The fear is not as important as that the danger is always with us.

The temper of the country is one of deep puzzlement. Since 1948, Americans were encouraged to believe that the Russians are inordinately wicked. But now business men are being told that there might soon be a good market for American wares in Russia and that they ought to take a mild view. They were told not to trade with Red China; they are now being told to get ready to trade with Red China. Any day now, we ought to hear of a business men's group organized to explore the possibility of making profits out of the Russians. There have already been many private meetings on the subject and there are some business men who hold that where a dollar can be made is a good country. These same business men ought to remember that they sold to Japan on the eve of Pearl Harbor and their sons were killed. Why not sell to Russia now, on the eve—of what?

Unless this whole subject is aired in Congress, the people will know little or nothing about it. If the Democrats do not raise the issue, there will be Republicans to do it. Senator William Knowland already has. Senators Styles Bridges, Herman welker, George Malone and others will not be silent no matter what appeal is made for a bi-partisan foreign policy, which can only hold as long as Americans are not ashamed of it. And some are ashamed of what is being said these days about co-existence because there is no sincerity in the acceptance of this Russian slogan. By "no sincerity" is meant that the real aim is to hold a Four Power Conference next Summer on the subject of the recognition of Red China in the United Nations. Why not say so?

That Body of Yours

THE PROBLEM OF SLEEP

It will come as no surprise to most of us to hear that insomnia (sleeplessness) is one of the most widespread complaints with which physicians must deal. There seems to be no general rules of behavior about sleep, no exact period of time which would be best for everyone. Some people feel rested on four or five hours a night while others appear to need double this.

Anybody can stay awake for 36 hours, but after this it becomes increasingly distressing and after two or three days without sleep a person often forgets what he said or what was said to him. It is also thought that mental functions do not reach their best until some hours after waking.

What are some of the causes of sleeplessness? An acute or chronic illness, such as anemia, may be the underlying cause and so a thorough physical examination should be undertaken before any treatment is suggested. Chronic mental states are a frequent cause of loss of sleep, states such as chronic anxiety (fear) of sleeplessness for example. Sleeplessness often comes from digestive causes, such as too heavy meals, tea or coffee late at night, or overindulgence in alcohol which provides a dry mouth, gastritis (inflammation of the stomach). Women often suffer from sleeplessness because they take reducing tablets of the amphetamine type too late in the day. Snoring, more common in men than in women, is the cause of much loss of sleep in the marriage partner.

Aside from drugs, which it is wiser not to start to use until after all other methods have been tried, including removal of the cause of the sleeplessness if possible, what can be done to help promote sleep? Sometimes the physician may find it necessary to examine and regulate in detail the patient' daily routine, giving attention to clothing, diet, regular exercise, and fresh air. Extra pillows, the avoidance of cold feet, and cutting down on strenuous exercise and excessive mental work late in the day may be helpful. Going to bed on an empty stomach suits some persons while others sleep better after a meal.

The effect of prayer last thing at night should not be underestimated. Many elderly people sleep badly at night because they doze a lot in the day. Those with active brains appear to need less sleep than those with a slower mentality. The best treatment for the business man suffering from insomnia due to anxiety is a month away from his usual surroundings.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—It seems that everybody wants to get into the anti-Communist act through some kind of new organization.

The shower of press releases, petitions and prospectuses which rains down on Washington desks these days is now falling thicker and faster than autumn leaves. No mail is complete, it seems, without its brochure from some letterhead lobby that claims to have the exclusive answer on what's wrong with the world, and the never-fail formula for fixing it up good.

These organizations run the gamut from the soundly conceived to the slightly screwball. But according to their literature, they're all nonpolitical, nonsectarian, nonprofit and educational in purpose, with a coupon down at the bottom where you sign your name for membership and remit $5 for dues or $500 for a sustaining sponsorship.

MOST RECENT of these organizations to appear is the "Ten Million Americans . . . Mobilizing for Justice." It was announced without the financial coupon, but with a long blank petition form for joiners to go to work on.

Purpose of this organization is to get 10 million signatures in support of "Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and the fundamental principles he symbolizes." The stated objective is to build up so much pressure that the Senate will reject the Watkins committee censure charges. All this is to be done "to save constitutional government."

As with every organization, it is necessary to have one or more Big Names to head it up. Ten Million Americans fairly glistens with brass:

Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer of the Air Force, Lt.-Gen. Pedro A. del Valle of the Marines, Adm. William H. Standley and Rear Adm. John G. Crommelin of the Navy and four-star Gen. James A. Van Fleet of Greek and Korean war fame.

A MUCH MORE militant-sounding organization is "The Patrick Henry Congress." Its bluntly stated purpose is "To Attack Soviet Russia Now," in spite of the fact that President Eisenhower, Secretary Dulles and most every other prominent figure has come out against preventive war.

But Carl-Mangus Armfelt of Washington, organizer of the Patrick Henry ("Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death") Congress, declares that his organization's purpose is "To give the President and Congress the assurance that . . . we better take the initiative as leaders of the Free World before we lose all our allies and have to fight alone."

Another Washington organization aimed at fighting communism by slightly different methods is "The Christianform," whose name is obviously adapted from the Comminform.

"The Christianform is not a church agency," according to its founder, Nicholas T. Nonnemacher, a retired Air Force major. But it is a "religious and educational organization . . . aimed at creating an army of 20th Century Davids to slay the Goliaths of communism."

FINALLY, FROM CHICAGO comes word of the formation of the "For America" policy committee of 43, which will be one to watch. Gen. Robert E. Wood of America First fame and Clarence Manion are its cochairmen, but the group also includes Generals Mark Clark and Albert Wedemeyer. Brig.-Gen. Bonner Fellers, director of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Psychological Warfare against the Japanese during World War II, has just been named executive director.

This organization is a make-over of the "Americans for America" organization of Chicago, originally "dedicated to keeping the Congress free of members having socialistic tendencies."

Ex-Congressman Hamilton Fish of New York got into the act during the past year, with the intent of forming a third party. One rumor had it that the party wanted to run Senator McCarthy for President in 1956. But the reformed organization has now put a ban on direct political action, and Mr. Fish has resigned.

Future of Alger Hiss Rests in His Own Hands on Eve of Release From U. S. Prison

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 26 — Alger Hiss has paid his penalty under the law. Anybody else in the same circumstances is entitled to be accorded by his fellow men a chance to rehabilitate himself. To pursue Alger Hiss to tell what he knows about Communist activities in the government may be a logical objective of some congressional committee in the future, but it would be wiser to leave a decision on further revelations—if, indeed, Alger Hiss can contribute any —to him alone.

As matters stand today, the statute of limitations has run on any crime committed before or in the five years after World War 2, and there can be no prosecution of anybody in that connection. But any evidence of wartime acts in violation of espionage laws can be prosecuted. So far as anybody here knows, there is no evidence concerning any wartime violation of law by Alger Hiss. This means there is no plan by the Department of Justice to try to make any further case against him.

Thus, the future of Alger Hiss is in his own hands. But what will the public think about him? Will he be accepted by his former friends? Rarely in American history has there been a case of one so prominent in government and in the collegiate world who, after serving a sentence for perjury, comes back to an atmosphere still surcharged with memories of his two trials and the sensational charges that surrounded him.

What attitude shall society take toward Alger Hiss? Somewhat the same problem was posed shortly after Hiss was convicted, when there was widespread criticism of Dean Acheson, then Secretary of State, who said he refused to turn his back on his friend. This correspondent wrote at that time—February 1950—as follows:

"When the jury rendered its verdict of guilty, Mr. Acheson didn't attempt to dodge the inevitable recurrence of the same question when put to him by the reporters. He didn't say, however, as has been misrepresented since, that he believed Hiss innocent. He expressed no view on that phase of it but simply pointed out, in effect, that, irrespective of whether Hiss went to jail or not, he would continue to give him his friendship.

"This is a far cry from condoning treason or any other crime. It assumed merely that Hiss, by the verdict if nothing else, had already received more punishment before his countrymen than a jail sentence could inflict. It assumed, too, that the rehabilitation of a man gone wrong is an obligation imposed on society as a whole—now recognized as an enlightened attitude in penology. It assumed also that the Christian spirit is not something to which men pay lip service on Sundays, but which they sometimes forget on weekdays because it might bring down upon them cynical charges of mawkishness or softness."

Will the people who knew Hiss turn their backs on him now, or will they assist him in rehabilitation?

Much will depend on the attitude of the man himself. For he never has publicly conceded that the jury was right in convicting him of perjury. In the eyes of many people, therefore, he has not atoned for his sin, though he has paid the penality of the law. So far as the jury's judgment is concerned, it was based to no small extent on the flat statement by Hiss that he never was a Communist. Since his trial at which witnesses testified that he perjured himself on this point, another witness—Nathaniel Weyl—who broke with the Communists, has stated under oath that he personally saw Hiss paying Communist dues several times.

There have been many ex-Communists who have been received into respected circles of American life but primarily because they "turned state's evidence," so to speak, and aided their own government by furnishing all the information they had about the Communist infiltration movement in which they had participated.

Alger Hiss should be left to make his voluntary atonement for his crime, but, if he chooses to remain silent altogether, he will not soon regain, even among his friends, some of the esteem he once had. For he is still the center of an unexplained mystery. He was prominent in the councils of the Department of State at a critical time. He was present at the Yalta conference as a trusted adviser of Edward Stettinius, who was then secretary of state.

Whatever the scope of his wrongdoing and however narrow it may be, the future of Alger Hiss depends now on how much of the cloud that has enveloped his reputation he himself will remove. Public opinion is not charitably inclined toward any one who does not voluntarily tell the facts about a crime committed by others of which he has first-hand knowledge. For today undisclosed information about the past relations between Soviet Russia and the American government is still of vital interest to the security of the United States.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The transfer to Kansis City of the franchise, uniforms, liabilities and meat which, at the end, constituted the storied Philadelphia Athletics will not stay the decline of a strange emotional folk-way of the United States. Professional baseball is in a sad, bad way from the major leagues down to the flimsiest minors.

The only reason for this is so painful that all the philosophers of the sport side and the high priests in the sacristies of the major leagues have put it out of their thoughts. Baseball is fading because the people of the United States will not buy tickets to keep it going. That means that the people have lost their interest in baseball which from its adolescence has been mainly a professional athletic entertainment rather than a popular amateur sport.

To be sure, millions of us would actually grieve in our souls if the organized game, meaning a system of graduated professional leagues, were to stop dead on opening day next April. But we have been treating baseball as we treat church. Most of us seldom contribute to its support by buying tickets and give our attendance, which is important, too, because small gatherings have a lonesome, mournful look and feeling. But we expect baseball to be there, as we expect the church to be there, when the spirit moves us to go. The people would feel a nostalgic hurt if the standing of the clubs should vanish from the sport pages. But the same people would have only themselves to blame for their sorrow.

The St. Louis Browns and the Athletics have been uprooted in the American League and moved to Baltimore and Kansas City amid optimistic but quite unreasonable assumptions that the people of those quaint settlements are naive natives who will press their clam-shells on the new magnates in return for calico and beads. But Baltimore had fine baseball under Jack Dunne, of the Orioles, in the International League. And Kansas City has high standards cultivated during many years in the American Association. Both cities often had better home teams than the cities in the second divisions of the majors.

To be sure, these high-minors also usually had some scuffed-up veterans of the majors, possibly men of World Series renown, playing out their days after losing some of their spark. They also had slightly erratic but brilliant sprouts on their inevitable way up. But there was not much to choose between St. Louis, Philadelphia and, sometimes, Detroit, in the American League, some cities in the International, the Association and the Coast League which is in the same category.

Baltimore lost many games by one run last summer, her first season in the American League, but the customers are uncompromising and they admire a clumsy, clouting club which wins over weak opponents by 12 runs and sneer at a better one which loses 20 games in a season by scores of 2 to 1, 3 to 2 and 6 to 5.

There is no occasion to scold the customers. Though we may be fined for non-attendance at Dave Dubinsky's political rallies, we have the option of shunning the local ball-yard for seasons at a stretch. Some semi-professional clubs, subsidized by regional taverns and dance-halls and paying their athletes $5, $10 or $15 a game, three afternoons or nights a week, do better than some of the majors, including strong majors. The games are enjoyable and the rivalry is personal, not merely contractural. At least they break even because little patrons who vaunt their blue plates across the shoulder-blades of the athletes are quick to realize their advertising appropriations are not binding results. But the Braves were practically dispossessed from Boston by public apathy and nobody ever knew how much they were losing. And Tom Yawkey, who puts up for the Red Sox, has always been looked upon as a man too rich to care. So the people in Boston looked to benefactors personally unknown to them to keep baseball there for them should they decide to go.

The major league teams long ago undertook to subsidize the minors, receiving their reward in fresh players to replace their spavins. But this system was self-defeating when most of the majors drew fewer customers over the long haul year after year. Now the minors are total parasites on the majors. Local populations hardly know how they stand in their respective leagues. By mid-term of their short, precarious seasons local minor league sportswriters, who are no longer full-time sportswriters but handy-men with other duties, are trying to incite undertakers, taxicab fleets and soft-drink distributors to underwrite losses and save the localities from humiliation.

If the people don't care enough for baseball to buy tickets with money, baseball will either die, transform itself in some way as yet unimagined or abandon a foolish aversion to exploitation by the great manufacturers of automobiles, cigarettes, beer and whiskey. These are the main great national advertisers. The aluminum company whose home is Pittsburgh, preferred political controversy waged by Egbert Murrow for its emotional appeal but the financial reports may one day prompt the stockholders to plump for the Pirates' franchise and another pennant-winner after many years of frustration. It remains to be seen whether a dismal tail-ender in a major league would depress the sales and receipts of an industrial giant as sponsor. With Ford, General Motors and Chrysler in a competition, the farm system could be restored and the quality and the minor league "presentation" improved to payload standards.

At World Series time in New York, great parties of festive, extravagant men and women fly or ride the de luxe trains from Phoenix, Tucson and many other cities in all directions not only to see the ball games from preferred seats, unavailable to the regular customers, but to tear up money in night clubs, hotels and theatres. That is fine for business wherever the Series is, but a dramatic commentary on the apathy and hand-to-mouth economy of their local minor-league clubs.

Toledo has been a disaster-area in baseball. The customers simply would not buy tickets so the club finally closed after many years. Nobody would even farm the patch until the Braves moved into Milwaukee and took the turkey-town on the Maumee for a loss-leader.

No other nation has ever had an emotional and sentimental experience comparable to our obsession with baseball except Britain with her enormously vital, competitive and profitable soccer. This is of recent development, however, and may one day go the same way.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

In recent years amazing progress has been made in the battle of tuberculosis. In large measure it has been made possible by funds raised through the sale of Christmas Seals. The fact that progress has been made does not mean that the job is done. Far from it. Money is still needed and it is as important to buy Christmas Seals this year as it ever was.

The Christmas Seal way of asking for small contributions from many people gives the Ulster County TB and Health Association an opportunity to spread the truth about the disease to people in all walks of life. In Ulster County the money raised goes for promotion of free chest X-rays in the communities; rehabilitation worker for patients of Ulster County TB Hospital; health education through films, exhibits, classes, literature to schools, industries and community; contributions for medical research; mental health committee program; transportation for out-patient chest clinic and cooperative services with other health and welfare agencies.

With many of us the use of Christmas Seals has become a tradition. The time is approaching for the mailing of gifts and cards. The Christmas season is a time of unselfish giving and the few extra cents invested in the use of the Christmas Seals give our packages and cards a double value.

Each Christmas Seal used is a gift of hope to the unfortunate person afflicted with tuberculoss. Each seal is a step nearer eventual final victory over this dread disease. So buy and use Christmas Seals.

PREVENTINNG RUMORS

As every ex-serviceman knows, few things get around so fast as rumors. Usually the speed with which they are scattered is matched only by their inaccuracy.

American businesses are also plagued by "rumor mills." While the misinformation thus spread is often a harmless form of gossip, sometimes it works considerable harm. For instance, the home office of one national firm lost 15 of its valued employes within a two week period. Investigation showed they had left because of a false rumor that the office was to be moved to another state. Unfounded rumors also breed discontent, resentment and work interruptions.

It is known that rumors flourish in large organizations where there are poor communications between the top executives and the mass of employes. It is also known that the best way to prevent or stop rumors is by making sure that every employe is kept fully informed of the truth.

The National Industrial Conference Board, in an effort to stop unfounded rumors, has issued a booklet, "Communications With Employes," stressing the importance of oral communication and of learning the worker's viewpoint. It recommends small group meetings where rumors in circulation are analyzed and corrected. It also urges top executives to "feed" the rumor grapevine with the truth. Under this system, accurate information is passed along from employe to employe, from the president down to the office boy.

Top executives are learning that in the United States, where the employes represent an educated class, there is a need for a measure of democracy even in business. Employes are curious to know what is happening in the upper echelons of their companies. In the absence of accurate information, rumors start and flourish. Rumors can best be prevented by the truth.

An even tempered man is one who doesn't have to send the children out of the room when he hits his thumb with a hammer.

FIRST CLIPPER FLIGHT

On November 22, 1935, the China Clipper started across the Pacific with the first air-mail flight. Island bases had been set up and the flight was given a great deal of publicity. In seven days the Clipper reached Manila after stops at Honolulu, Midway, Wake and Guam—names which were to acquire a significance years later because of the bloody battles for their control.

Aviation has come a long way since the inauguration of Clipper flights. It is no longer considered newsworthy to fly anywhere in the world. But it is easy to remember the thrill of hearing of the uneventful first flight of the Clipper which meant that new conquests of the air were possible.

THE BI-PARTISAN POLICY

The value of the two-party system is that it provides a public forum for the discussion of public affairs, particularly differences of view in the national legislature, in an orderly fashion. The monolithic government, as practised by Mussolini, Hitler, Stalin, and now by Malenkov, evades the obligation of a free discussion. The Prime Minister of Great Britain must always anticipate a questioning of his conduct by Her Majesty's loyal opposition.

The bi-partisan foreign policy has the advantage of presenting a united front to the rest of the world; it has the disadvantage that it clothes in a cloud the conduct of government and keeps from the people the truth concerning current policies and events. The American people are entitled to know what took place at Teheran and Yalta, to say nothing of Quebec and Potsdam. They do not know the whole story to this day.

Sir Winston Churchill's last visit to this country was designed to convince President Eisenhower that there ought to be a conference of Eisenhower, Churchill and Malenkov. The impression prevailed in this country at the time that Churchill had failed. It is now apparent that we are being softened up for some purpose. There is talk of "Russian culture," as though that had anything to do with the brutality of Russian Communism. What did Tolstoy or Dostoievsky or Tchaikovsky or Glinka have to do with atheistic Communism which is a product of German Hegelianism and Marxism and not of Russian culture at all?

But everything is thrown into the melting pot of Administration propaganda to soften our people to a receptivity of a change of policy of some kind. Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson says that the only alternative to war is co-existence which is designed to frighten mothers into accepting any solution rather than to risk their sons, which is understandable. But any solution may turn out to be no solution at all because no one fears a coward and the current propaganda must give the impression that the United States is cowardly.

Who needs to be afraid of the big, bad wolf who threatens to retaliate "the next time" our planes are shot down—but it is always "the next time"? The Russians test our temper and always find that we speak strong but do not act at all. They who are building an empire by fear will soon learn not to fear us no matter what we say. And it is then that we shall have to be ready to stand or fall at Armageddon. The fear is not as important as that the danger is always with us.

The temper of the country is one of deep puzzlement. Since 1948, Americans were encouraged to believe that the Russians are inordinately wicked. But now business men are being told that there might soon be a good market for American wares in Russia and that they ought to take a mild view. They were told not to trade with Red China; they are now being told to get ready to trade with Red China. Any day now, we ought to hear of a business men's group organized to explore the possibility of making profits out of the Russians. There have already been many private meetings on the subject and there are some business men who hold that where a dollar can be made is a good country. These same business men ought to remember that they sold to Japan on the eve of Pearl Harbor and their sons were killed. Why not sell to Russia now, on the eve—of what?

Unless this whole subject is aired in Congress, the people will know little or nothing about it. If the Democrats do not raise the issue, there will be Republicans to do it. Senator William Knowland already has. Senators Styles Bridges, Herman welker, George Malone and others will not be silent no matter what appeal is made for a bi-partisan foreign policy, which can only hold as long as Americans are not ashamed of it. And some are ashamed of what is being said these days about co-existence because there is no sincerity in the acceptance of this Russian slogan. By "no sincerity" is meant that the real aim is to hold a Four Power Conference next Summer on the subject of the recognition of Red China in the United Nations. Why not say so?

THE PROBLEM OF SLEEP

It will come as no surprise to most of us to hear that insomnia (sleeplessness) is one of the most widespread complaints with which physicians must deal. There seems to be no general rules of behavior about sleep, no exact period of time which would be best for everyone. Some people feel rested on four or five hours a night while others appear to need double this.

Anybody can stay awake for 36 hours, but after this it becomes increasingly distressing and after two or three days without sleep a person often forgets what he said or what was said to him. It is also thought that mental functions do not reach their best until some hours after waking.

What are some of the causes of sleeplessness? An acute or chronic illness, such as anemia, may be the underlying cause and so a thorough physical examination should be undertaken before any treatment is suggested. Chronic mental states are a frequent cause of loss of sleep, states such as chronic anxiety (fear) of sleeplessness for example. Sleeplessness often comes from digestive causes, such as too heavy meals, tea or coffee late at night, or overindulgence in alcohol which provides a dry mouth, gastritis (inflammation of the stomach). Women often suffer from sleeplessness because they take reducing tablets of the amphetamine type too late in the day. Snoring, more common in men than in women, is the cause of much loss of sleep in the marriage partner.

Aside from drugs, which it is wiser not to start to use until after all other methods have been tried, including removal of the cause of the sleeplessness if possible, what can be done to help promote sleep? Sometimes the physician may find it necessary to examine and regulate in detail the patient' daily routine, giving attention to clothing, diet, regular exercise, and fresh air. Extra pillows, the avoidance of cold feet, and cutting down on strenuous exercise and excessive mental work late in the day may be helpful. Going to bed on an empty stomach suits some persons while others sleep better after a meal.

The effect of prayer last thing at night should not be underestimated. Many elderly people sleep badly at night because they doze a lot in the day. Those with active brains appear to need less sleep than those with a slower mentality. The best treatment for the business man suffering from insomnia due to anxiety is a month away from his usual surroundings.

Washington (NEA)—It seems that everybody wants to get into the anti-Communist act through some kind of new organization.

The shower of press releases, petitions and prospectuses which rains down on Washington desks these days is now falling thicker and faster than autumn leaves. No mail is complete, it seems, without its brochure from some letterhead lobby that claims to have the exclusive answer on what's wrong with the world, and the never-fail formula for fixing it up good.

These organizations run the gamut from the soundly conceived to the slightly screwball. But according to their literature, they're all nonpolitical, nonsectarian, nonprofit and educational in purpose, with a coupon down at the bottom where you sign your name for membership and remit $5 for dues or $500 for a sustaining sponsorship.

MOST RECENT of these organizations to appear is the "Ten Million Americans . . . Mobilizing for Justice." It was announced without the financial coupon, but with a long blank petition form for joiners to go to work on.

Purpose of this organization is to get 10 million signatures in support of "Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and the fundamental principles he symbolizes." The stated objective is to build up so much pressure that the Senate will reject the Watkins committee censure charges. All this is to be done "to save constitutional government."

As with every organization, it is necessary to have one or more Big Names to head it up. Ten Million Americans fairly glistens with brass:

Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer of the Air Force, Lt.-Gen. Pedro A. del Valle of the Marines, Adm. William H. Standley and Rear Adm. John G. Crommelin of the Navy and four-star Gen. James A. Van Fleet of Greek and Korean war fame.

A MUCH MORE militant-sounding organization is "The Patrick Henry Congress." Its bluntly stated purpose is "To Attack Soviet Russia Now," in spite of the fact that President Eisenhower, Secretary Dulles and most every other prominent figure has come out against preventive war.

But Carl-Mangus Armfelt of Washington, organizer of the Patrick Henry ("Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death") Congress, declares that his organization's purpose is "To give the President and Congress the assurance that . . . we better take the initiative as leaders of the Free World before we lose all our allies and have to fight alone."

Another Washington organization aimed at fighting communism by slightly different methods is "The Christianform," whose name is obviously adapted from the Comminform.

"The Christianform is not a church agency," according to its founder, Nicholas T. Nonnemacher, a retired Air Force major. But it is a "religious and educational organization . . . aimed at creating an army of 20th Century Davids to slay the Goliaths of communism."

FINALLY, FROM CHICAGO comes word of the formation of the "For America" policy committee of 43, which will be one to watch. Gen. Robert E. Wood of America First fame and Clarence Manion are its cochairmen, but the group also includes Generals Mark Clark and Albert Wedemeyer. Brig.-Gen. Bonner Fellers, director of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Psychological Warfare against the Japanese during World War II, has just been named executive director.

This organization is a makeover of the "Americans for America" organization of Chicago, originally "dedicated to keeping the Congress free of members having socialistic tendencies."

Ex-Congressman Hamilton Fish of New York got into the act during the past year, with the intent of forming a third party. One rumor had it that the party wanted to run Senator McCarthy for President in 1956. But the reformed organization has now put a ban on direct political action, and Mr. Fish has resigned.

Future of Alger Hiss Rests in His Own Hands on Eve of Release From U. S. Prison

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 26 — Alger Hiss has paid his penalty under the law. Anybody else in the same circumstances is entitled to be accorded by his fellow men a chance to rehabilitate himself. To pursue Alger Hiss to tell what he knows about Communist activities in the government may be a logical objective of some congressional committee in the future, but it would be wiser to leave a decision on further revelations—if, indeed, Alger Hiss can contribute any—to him alone.

As matters stand today, the statute of limitations has run on any crime committed before or in the five years after World War 2, and there can be no prosecution of anybody in that connection. But any evidence of wartime acts in violation of espionage laws can be prosecuted. So far as anybody here knows, there is no evidence concerning any wartime violation of law by Alger Hiss. This means there is no plan by the Department of Justice to try to make any further case against him.

Thus, the future of Alger Hiss is in his own hands. But what will the public think about him? Will he be accepted by his former friends? Rarely in American history has there been a case of one so prominent in government and in the collegiate world who, after serving a sentence for perjury, comes back to an atmosphere still surcharged with memories of his two trials and the sensational charges that surrounded him.

What attitude shall society take toward Alger Hiss? Somewhat the same problem was posed shortly after Hiss was convicted, when there was widespread criticism of Dean Acheson, then Secretary of State, who said he refused to turn his back on his friend. This correspondent wrote at that time—February 1950—as follows:

"When the jury rendered its verdict of guilty, Mr. Acheson didn't attempt to dodge the inevitable recurrence of the same question when put to him by the reporters. He didin't say, however, as has been misrepresented since, that he believed Hiss innocent. He expressed no view on that phase of it but simply pointed out, in effect, that, irrespective of whether Hiss went to jail or not, he would continue to give him his friendship.

"This is a far cry from condoning treason or any other crime. It assumed merely that Hiss, by the verdict if nothing else, had already received more punishment before his countrymen than a jail sentence could inflict. It assumed, too, that the rehabilitation of a man gone wrong is an obligation imposed on society as a whole—now recognized as an enlightened attitude in penology. It assumed also that the Christian spirit is not something to which men pay lip service on Sundays, but which they sometimes forget on weekdays because it might bring down upon them cynical charges of mawkishness or softness."

Will the people who knew Hiss turn their backs on him now, or will they assist him in rehabilitation?

Much will depend on the attitude of the man himself. For he never has publicly conceded that the jury was right in convicting him of perjury. In the eyes of many people, therefore, he has not atoned for his sin, though he has paid the penality of the law. So far as the jury's judgment is concerned, it was based to no small extent on the flat statement by Hiss that he never was a Communist. Since his trial at which witnesses testified that he perjured himself on this point, another witness—Nathaniel Weyl—who broke with the Communists, has stated under oath that he personally saw Hiss paying Communist dues several times.

There have been many ex-Communists who have been received into respected circles of American life but primarily because they "turned state's evidence," so to speak, and aided their own government by furnishing all the information they had about the Communist infiltration movement in which they had participated.

Alger Hiss should be left to make his voluntary atonement for his crime, but, if he chooses to remain silent altogether, he will not soon regain, even among his friends, some of the esteem he once had. For he is still the center of an unexplained mystery. He was prominent in the councils of the Department of State at a critical time. He was present at the Yalta conference as a trusted adviser of Edward Stettinius, who was then secretary of state.

Whatever the scope of his wrongdoing and however narrow it may be, the future of Alger Hiss depends now on how much of the cloud that has enveloped his reputation he himself will remove. Public opinion is not charitably inclined toward any one who does not voluntarily tell the facts about a crime committed by others of which he has first-hand knowledge. For today undisclosed information about the past relations between Soviet Russia and the American government is still of vital interest to the security of the United States.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The transfer to Kansis City of the franchise, uniforms, liabilities and meat which, at the end, constituted the storied Philadelphia Athletics will not stay the decline of a strange emotional folk-way of the United States. Professional baseball is in a sad, bad way from the major leagues down to the flimsiest minors.

The only reason for this is so painful that all the philosophers of the sport side and the high priests in the sacristies of the major leagues have put it out of their thoughts. Baseball is fading because the people of the United States will not buy tickets to keep it going. That means that the people have lost their interest in baseball which from its adolescence has been mainly a professional athletic entertainment rather than a popular amateur sport.

To be sure, millions of us would actually grieve in our souls if the organized game, meaning a system of graduated professional leagues, were to stop dead on opening day next April. But we have been treating baseball as we treat church. Most of us seldom contribute to its support by buying tickets and give our attendance, which is important, too, because small gatherings have a lonesome, mournful look and feeling. But we expect baseball to be there, as we expect the church to be there, when the spirit moves us to go. The people would feel a nostalgic hurt if the standing of the clubs should vanish from the sport pages. But the same people would have only themselves to blame for their sorrow.

The St. Louis Browns and the Athletics have been uprooted in the American League and moved to Baltimore and Kansas City amid optimistic but quite unreasonable assumptions that the people of those quaint settlements are naive natives who will press their clam-shells on the new magnates in return for calico and beads. But Baltimore had fine baseball under Jack Dunne, of the Orioles, in the International League. And Kansas City has high standards cultivated during many years in the American Association. Both cities often had better home teams than the cities in the second divisions of the majors.

To be sure, these high-minors also usually had some scuffed-up veterans of the majors, possibly men of World Series renown, playing out their days after losing some of their spark. They also had slightly erratic but brilliant sprouts on their inevitable way up. But there was not much to choose between St. Louis, Philadelphia and, sometimes, Detroit, in the American League, some cities in the International, the Association and the Coast League which is in the same category.

Baltimore lost many games by one run last summer, her first season in the American League, but the customers are uncompromising and they admire a clumsy, clouting club which wins over weak opponents by 12 runs and sneer at a better one which loses 20 games in a season by scores of 2 to 1, 3 to 2 and 6 to 5.

There is no occasion to scold the customers. Though we may be fined for non-attendance at Dave Dubinsky's political rallies, we have the option of shunning the local ball-yard for seasons at a stretch. Some semi-professional clubs, subsidized by regional taverns and dance-halls and paying their athletes $5, $10 or $15 a game, three afternoons or nights a week, do better than some of the majors, including strong majors. The games are enjoyable and the rivalry is personal, not merely contractural. At least they break even because little patrons who vaunt their blue plates across the shoulder-blades of the athletes are quick to realize their advertising appropriations are not binding results. But the Braves were practically dispossessed from Boston by public apathy and nobody ever knew how much they were losing. And Tom Yawkey, who puts up for the Red Sox, has always been looked upon as a man too rich to care. So the people in Boston looked to benefactors personally unknown to them to keep baseball there for them should they decide to go.

The major league teams long ago undertook to subsidize the minors, receiving their reward in fresh players to replace their spavins. But this system was self-defeating when most of the majors drew fewer customers over the long haul year after year. Now the minors are total parasites on the majors. Local populations hardly know how they stand in their respective leagues. By mid-term of their short, precarious seasons local minor league sportswriters, who are no longer full-time sportswriters but handy-men with other duties, are trying to incite undertakers, taxicab fleets and soft-drink distributors to underwrite losses and save the localities from humiliation.

If the people don't care enough for baseball to buy tickets with money, baseball will either die, transform itself in some way as yet unimagined or abandon a foolish aversion to exploitation by the great manufacturers of automobiles, cigarettes, beer and whiskey. These are the main great national advertisers. The aluminum company whose home is Pittsburgh, preferred political controversy waged by Egbert Murrow for its emotional appeal but the financial reports may one day prompt the stockholders to plump for the Pirates' franchise and another pennant-winner after many years of frustration. It remains to be seen whether a dismal tail-ender in a major league would depress the sales and receipts of an industrial giant as sponsor. With Ford, General Motors and Chrysler in a competition, the farm system could be restored and the quality and the minor league "presentation" improved to payload standards.

At World Series time in New York, great parties of festive, extravagant men and women fly or ride the de luxe trains from Phoenix, Tucson and many other cities in all directions not only to see the ball games from preferred seats, unavailable to the regular customers, but to tear up money in night clubs, hotels and theatres. That is fine for business wherever the Series is, but a dramatic commentary on the apathy and hand-to-mouth economy of their local minor-league clubs.

Toledo has been a disaster-area in baseball. The customers simply would not buy tickets so the club finally closed after many years. Nobody would even farm the patch until the Braves moved into Milwaukee and took the turkey-town on the Maumee for a loss-leader.

No other nation has ever had an emotional and sentimental experience comparable to our obsession with baseball except Britain with her enormously vital, competitive and profitable soccer. This is of recent development, however, and may one day go the same way.

Yoshida Faces Struggle

Tokyo, Nov. 26 (AP)—Embattled Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida was reported ready today to throw Japan into a general election unless he can either hold office or name his successor as premier. With the nation's special Diet session only four days away, lines were hardening for an all-out struggle for power among three factions—two Conservative and one made up of the right and left wing Socialists. Beginning the seventh year of an unbroken and unprecedented administration, Yoshida faces the fight of his political life.

Rebury Karl Marx

London, Nov. 26 (AP)—The body of Karl Marx, father of communism, has been dug up and reburied in a different plot in London's Highgate Cemetery. A bigger site was needed for a large memorial to be erected shortly. The coffin was moved in the darkness early Tuesday by five gravediggers, working by the light of oil lamps. Officials said the home office, in okaying the transfer, specified that the reburial must take place at night. Marx died here in exile from Germany in 1883 at the age of 65. His most famous book, "Das Kapital," is a bible of communism.

Wedged by Train

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—Emergency squad police used jacks early today to free a man whose left leg was wedged between the side of a train and the platform in a Bronx subway station. Francis Collins, 43, of 1368 Metropolitan avenue, the Bronx, suffered possible fractures of the left leg and thigh. Police said Collins apparently slipped as he was boarding a northbound Pelham line train in the IRT station at East 177th street.

THE MARQUEE

T.V. — STAGE — RADIO — RECORDS — PEOPLE

By DICK KLEINER

THE RECORD SHOP: Something new in records—combining fine music and fine art—seems to have occurred to two record companies at once. RCA-Victor is first out. on the His Master's Voice label, with three albums that have a framable reproduction of a painting packaged in each album. One of these features Yehudi Menuhin playing the Bartok Violin Concerto.

Enoch Light's new grand Award records have art masterpieces reproduced on the album cover. You can't frame them, however. The whole Grand Award line, which includes semi-classical as well as classical, will have pointings—some new, some old, on the album covers. It's a Light fantastic idea.

Kermit Schafer, who collects the very funny radio and TV bloopers which he records, took 10 years to gather the oral nonsense on the two "Pardon My Blooper" albums. The running time of both sides is 15 minutes. Now he's working on a new edition. See you in 1964, Kermit.

DICK'S PICKS: The Fontane Sisters, on Dot have their best to date in "Hearts of Stone." Others: "This Year's Santa Baby" (Eartha Kitt, RCA); "I Love You Madly" (The Four Coins, Epic); "Meet Me Halfway" (Shirley Harmer, MGM); Sunrise in Napoli" (Frankie Carle, RCA); "I Want a Man for Christmas" (Joan Shaw, Jaguar); "Home for the Holidays," (Perry Como, RCA); "Peaches and Cream" (The First Nighters, Decca); "Undecided" (George Shearing Quintet, MGM).

Christmas music on albums—Percy Faith, on Columbia, plays the carols on a fine album called "Music of Christmas" and you can hear the same carols on the organ, played by Virgil Fox, on an RCA album. Both carols and popular Christmas songs are done by George Melachrino on another RCA issue. Those are the pick of the Christmas crop, and it's good pickings.

Two new operatic recordings, by RCA: Toscanini conducts Beethoven's "Fidelio" with a cast headed by Jan Peerce and Rose Bampton. The Maestro can do no wrong. Not quite as good, but still a fine addition to opera on wax is "The Elixir of Love," Donizetti's work, done by the Rome Opera Company.

Home Bureau

County Represented At State Meeting

WIDEN YOUR HORIZONS, the theme of the 35th annual meeting of the New York State Federation of Home Bureau's which was held at the Hotel Syracuse in Syracuse Nov. 14-16, was the message which the delegates and members will carry back to their counties and to their local units.

Representing Ulster county were Mrs. Thomas C. Goodman, delegate and Miss Rachel A. Merritt, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Blanche Kelsey of Buffalo, president of the 93,000-strong organization, in her greeting to the opening session urged the members to work closely with their directors and officers. She reminded them that the directors are making every effort to carry out their task objectively so that the federation and extension service will be outstanding in New York state, as it has been for the past 35 years.

Awarding of the scholarship trophies, small gold statuettes of a girl in robe and mortarboard, took place on Monday morning. Awards were made to each of 44 counties, including Ulster county. Mrs. George Wittwar of Auburn, chairman of the State Scholarship Committee, announced that the Southern District, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert Gerster of White Plains, had turned in a 100 per cent report on member contributions of 10 cents each for the second consecutive year.

The scholarship money is set up as a fund, the interest of which is used to help worthy students in the several colleges of Home Economics in the state. At present there are 16 of these scholarships in use. With the money collected this year, it is anticipated that two more scholarships will be available at the end of this school year.

DEAN HELEN G. CANOYER of the College of Home Economics spoke of the challenge which today's homemaker faces in her everyday life. The strong, local leadership program developed through the Home Bureau was emphasized by Mrs. Orilla W. Butts, State Leader of Home Demonstration Agents.

Dr. Maurice Bond spoke briefly to the delegates, explaining the changes that will necessarily have to be made in the state law, following the decision of the Farm Bureau Federation to establish an independent Farm Bureau. This was Dr. Bond's first appearance before the group since his appointment as director of the New York Extension Service last summer.

Resolutions approved by the group included encouragement of participation in world friendship programs, commendation of the state program in its wider aims, increased cooperation with other community projects by members and support for organizations working to improve reading material for children.

A NEW FAMILY LIFE Study Club was organized recently at the home of Mrs. John Cline in Kingston. Mrs. Robert Hogan was elected chairman and Mrs. Cline as secretary. Miss Rachel Merritt, Home Demonstration Agent-at-Large, met with the group and discussed possible courses of study the group might like to follow. She explained to the group the purpose of a Family Life Study Club.

The group will meet the second Wednesday evening of each month. The first regular meeting will be held in January 1955. Mrs. John F. Coffey and Mrs. Herbert Dickeison will have charge of the discussion at the January meeting.

The officers will decide on one of two study courses, and the group will start the course at their January meeting.

COLOR SCHEMES will be the topic of Miss Adeline Snellman, extension specialist in clothing from the College of Home Economics in Ithaca, at a county-wide meeting Dec. 1 at 1:30 p. m., at the First Baptist Church. Miss Snellman will discuss color schemes that are becoming to people with different type coloring. Models will be on hand to illustrate the points made by Miss Snellman.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., Nov. 25—In my release of last July, I was quite bullish on the national crop outlook. Final results, which now are just about all tallied, largely confirm my earlier optimism. Although the 1954 total volume of all-crop production will not chalk up a new record, it will still be relatively large.

DESPITE A SERIES of hurricanes, severe drouth in some areas, sizable shifts in land use and government controls, most of the miscellaneous crops are above the 1943-1952 average. Included in this group are oats, barley, rye, flaxseed, rice, sorghum grain, cotton, all hay, dry edible beans, dry field peas, soybeans, tobacco, sugar cane, and sugar beets. Cotton—a major crop—is also above average. Below average crops, however, include such major crops as corn, wheat, peanuts, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, and hops.

THE OUTLOOK for fruits is for the most part, favorable. However, I expect below-average crops of grapes and commercial apples. Supplies of the delectable cranberry will be sufficient to meet holiday, as well as winter needs. A whopping early and mid-season outturn of citrus fruit is indicated. The pear crop should be about average size. Pecans are likely to be in short supply in the year ahead. In the case of almonds, filberts, and walnuts, I expect above-average crops.

THE INDICATED corn outturn of 2,938,713,000 bushels is down 7.5 per cent from 1953 and 4 per cent below average. This crop may well fall short of probable consumption in 1954-1955. However, the October 1 carryover of 918,200,000 bushels (largely in the hands of CCC) was a record high. Thus, total supplies should suffice, but the carryover next October 1 will be reduced. I forecast higher average corn prices as the season works along. This is also true of apple prices.

U. S. farmers really "went to town" on soybeans. The indicated record outturn of 337,990,000 bushels will by no means prove burdensome, in view of the excellent outlook for domestic consumption and exports. Many farmers are holding their new-crop beans for higher prices, which, in my opinion, appears to be a smart move. In any event, they can put their beans into the government loan if prices should decline!

THERE WILL BE much more than enough U. S. cotton to service total 1954-1955 requirements. The indicated crop of 13,206,000 bales is, alone, sufficient for probable season's needs, not to mention the big carryover last August 1 of around 9,700,000 bales—largely in government hands. Cotton obviously is in trouble, but Uncle Sam no doubt will continue to bail it out by means of the loan and hopped-up exports. I have confidence in the cotton raisers. They are high-grade people who will work out a fair long-term solution.

UNFAVORABLE growing conditions cut the rice yield in California,—an important producing state. However, the four southern producing states—Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Texas—turned in a fine performance. The total U. S. crop of 58,534,000 bags of rice, of 100 pounds each, is still a record high. Even so, supplies should not prove burdensome, and I forecast prices are likely to average somewhat higher over the longer term.

There is no question in my mind that the Democratic leaders in Congress will go to bat vigorously for the farmers in 1955-1956. For one thing, they probably will try to restore 90 per cent supports, as compared with the present sliding-scale of 82½ per cent to 90 per cent. The fight on this program, I predict, will be stiff. They may make a play also for a larger cotton acreage than the present permitted acreage of 18,100,000.

IN ANY EVENT, the farmers should not suffer next year. Farm prices certainly are in no immediate danger of collapsing. In fact, farm income in 1955 should be off only moderately from that of this year. This means that farmers will still enjoy a comparatively favorable status, and that agricultural areas will continue to offer good markets to aggressive merchandisers of attractively-priced quality wares.

College Increase

Americans of college age attending college were about 4 per cent of the total in 1900, but have increased to about 25 per cent today.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

The Ruminator has been asked this question: "Why, if you think the recovery, or boom, has farther to go, do you start talking now about the slump to follow?"

This is, obviously, an excellent and pointed question. I'm glad it has come up, because perhaps I can make our contrary position more logical by a further discussion.

The answer has to do with both the "time element" in economic forecasting and with what we may call "psychological factors."

Let us tackle the latter first.

It has been my observation over a period of a quarter of a century or more that it takes us average humans a considerable period of time to shift our viewpoints. That is to say, when we have become mentally set on a given outlook we are not inclined to change our outlook until well after the trends have turned.

Does this sound involved? Let me try again to clear it up. I'll use one or two illustrations from history. Back in 1928 there were numerous observers who felt the boom had run its course and that a slump and stock-market decline were imminent. Yet, when stock prices continued to soar—and the speculation became rampant and reckless—many of these former cautious observers couldn't withstand the tug and magnetism of the booming atmosphere and they switched their minds to the idea then prevalent of a "New Era and a Plateau of Permanent Prosperity." Shortly thereafter, of course, the collapse occurred and the Great Depression commenced.

There were instances of prominent speakers warning, in 1928, of an impending bust-up, but who, in mid-1929, believed there was no bust-up in sight!

Again, in 1932, one found the same mental sequences—only in reverse. When the depression reached its low point—in June of '32—there were numbers of people who would not believe the worst was over. Their minds had become accustomed to depression and they expected it to last much longer. Those who commenced to switch their thinking some months previous to mid-1932 were prepared for the turn when it came — and could recognize it.

There is another point in connection with this discussion which is important, too.

The human mind, it seems, is much quicker at times to shift to thoughts of a boom than to a bust. At other times, "slump consciousness" is slow to be eradicated. You have witnessed this psychological quirk in the years since the end of World War 2. The idea of a postwar slump became so imbedded in everyone's mind that it has only recently been replaced by thoughts of a long era of good times ahead.

However, the shifts in opinions are now gaining momentum rapidly, as I measure them.

At the same time, while the fear of "a slump around the corner" has been argued and debated for several years, actually the economy has been in high gear and booming.

The result is, in my contrary opinion, that we are confronted with a condition that holds great risk in the not-far-distant future. As people shift their viewpoints to the idea of a Limitless Prosperity and a Decade of Vast Growth (popular terms today), the economy has already expanded high, wide and handsome.

Thus it seems to this contrary Ruminator that universal opinions will become crystallized on the thoughts of a containing boom just when the boom may be winding up.

But when? you now are asking.

There's the rub. It is impossible to pin-point the time element in economics. The momentum of given trends cannot be measured accurately.

Therefore, a contrary viewpoint is usually ahead of time.

But—when you consider that time is needed for people to change their viewpoints, it is prudent to think and plan ahead (in fact, the word prudent means just that: planning carefully ahead of time.

In other words, one can exploit good times (in order to have reserves for rainy days) and at the same time recognize that the trend may show signs of reversing at any moment. This, too, should be remembered: It is practically impossible to know trends are reversing until after they have reversed. Hindsight is always sharper than foresight!

The Ruminator thinks perhaps this has cleared up the quandry concerning why a contrary viewpoint has to look beyond the present.

Highest-ranking officer in the group is Col. John K. Arnold, Jr. He commanded a B-29 shot down Jan. 13, 1953. When the 14-man crew bailed out, three were killed. The other 11 were made prisoners. Lt.-Col. Edwin L. Heller commanded the 16th Fighter Squadron of the 51st Fighter-Interceptor Wing. Heller's F-76 Sabrejet was shot down south of the Yalu River on Jan. 23, 1953. Craig Speaks On Submarines

Edward C. Craig, plant manager of the Sprague Electric Company, was the speaker at the joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs Wednesday at the Hotel Stuyvesant.

A former captain in the United States Navy, where he served for over 30 years, the speaker discussed submarines and their part in both World Wars. The first 15 years' service of the captain included officerships on submarines and battleships in foreign and home waters. He also traced the history of the submarine and the changes in their design and construction down through the years. Mines and mine-counter measures and torpedoes also were included in his interesting and informative talk.

Before resigning from the navy, Captain Craig served as commander of the Portsmouth, N. H. Naval Shipyards, where he was engaged in the design and construction of submarines.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Various questions come up from time to time, such as when did Abram M. Safran have his store downtown? Many folks remember the store at 58 Broadway with the old-fashioned high front which Henry Singer remodeled a number of years ago. Mr. Safran dealt in various articles besides clothing, including jewelry, guns and various novelties. As I remember, it was a sort of a pawnshop with many interesting items being brought and displayed in his windows and in his glass showcases. I knew both Mr. and Mrs. Safran, as I used to play with their grandchildren when they visited from Troy. I remember when Mr. Safran needed his grandchild for meals or otherwise for errands he would go out in the middle of the street and call in all directions. It usually brought his grandchild as Mr. Safran was a tall man and had a strong voice. They were a nice old couple when I knew them, and Mr. Safran an interesting old gentleman with whom my father often liked to spend the time of day. It was Oct. of 1921 that the Safrans decided to sell out and leave for Troy where their daughter and grandchildren lived. No doubt many folks remember the Safrans, as they had been in business on lower Broadway for 35 years.

Back in those days there was also the Simon Brothers, Herman and William. As I remember one carried a cane and one an umbrella and no one was quite sure who carried what. They had a dry goods store of the best imported underwear at 24 Broadway. They were very neat and polite and looked very much alike, to me anyway. They lived on McEntee street so had to pass our store for their meals. Folks often wonder how I can remember all these folks. My father's drug store was in the middle of the business section downtown and most everyone had to pass our place on their way home, to their businesses and to the banks and post office and also to Cornell Building. It was a regular parade lunchtime. In those days few folks had cars, and those who did, used them on Sundays. Many had acquired individual walking habits. For instance, Fred Dennis, pharmacist, who worked for Connelly's Pharmacy and later for Weber's Pharmacy for many years, could be counted on coming down Abeel street from his Wurts street home every day at exactly the same time so you could set a watch by it. He walked very fast and swung his arms and waved to everyone. He was tall and made good time. Andrew Murphy, grandfather of our present Kingston Recreation Director, also passed our door as he lived up on the corner of Stuyvesant street and Broadway and would always call out a Hello. Folks were nice that way. You did not have to belong to a lodge to be a 'brother,' to get a Hello.

Most all the businessmen downtown were friendly with each other and had credit with each other as I remember whatever we needed that Sam Present carried I always bought there and they would buy their drug items for their family in our store. Once or twice a year they settled up. It was always a pleasant transaction. There was Mr. and Mrs. William F. Walter, who had a grocery store at 52 Broadway. She used to make the most delicious cakes on her portable oven over a gas burner in back of her store. She taught me how to do it, although I would bake it in my oven, but often I would dash with the cake to her store for her approval if it was done inside. She would use a clean broom straw for testing. I would not go by my judgment alone. Then she would show me how to make a lucious orange icing, cream for inside and harder for outside. That's the type of neighbors those store keepers were in those days.

LAKEVILLE, Conn. — The Rev. Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin, 77, noted retired Presbyterian Church leader, a former president of Union Theological Seminary in New York city, and at one time moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. Born in New York. Died Thursday.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia—Mohsen Medhad, 58, Iranian minister to Yugoslavia, a career diplomat who also served in Austria, Italy, Poland and Czechoslovakia. Died Thursday.

More than a million earthquakes occur in the world each year, but only a fraction are recorded.

Higher Proportion

Although many old people have settled in California and Florida in recent years, New England has a higher proportion of old people than any other section of the country.

For low-cost, durable streets pave with Soil-Cement

Soil-cement paving is ideal for residential streets. It eliminates mud, dust, ruts, bumps and chuckholes. It is an economical, durable, all-weather pavement.

ECONOMY. Street soil (or old granular pavement) is about 85% of the material needed. Mixed with portland cement and water it forms a base. A bituminous surface completes the pavement. Records prove that maintenance cost is extremely low.

DURABILITY. In all parts of the country—from 40° below zero to more than 100° above, from arid regions to areas exceeding 60 inches of rain a year—soil-cement has proved its durability through long years of service.

So, if you're tired of rough, dusty, unsightly streets insist on soil-cement—today's best low-cost pavement.

All this—and more miles per gallon too!

Be sure to test out the phenomenal effect of "variable pitch propellers" in Dynaflow Drive*!

MAYBE—among the upcoming crop of new 1955 models—there's another car with an advance that can hold a candle to this one.

But we doubt it. We doubt it because—among the rumors of what's cooking in automotive laboratories—there's nothing to compare with what's actually happened at Buick.

It all started with the fact that modern air liners get two big advantages because they can change the pitch of their propellers.

First, they get off the ground hundreds of feet sooner than they used to.

Second, they can stretch their gasoline by setting propeller blades at just the right "pitch" for cruising.

So Buick engineers asked themselves—"If you can do it with air, why can't you do it with oil—the oil inside a Dynaflow Drive?"

And to make a long story short—they could, and they did.

They engineered the propeller-like blades inside the "stator" of a Dynaflow Drive so they can change their pitch as much as 75 degrees.

That provides one setting for more-miles-per-gallon, and another for an instant safety-surge of power when it's needed.

Pay-off on progress!

Buicks today go a lot farther on a gallon of gas, thanks to constant improvement in Dynaflow and in engine design. Even the new 236-hp ROADMASTER averages 4.8 more miles per gallon than Buicks of six years ago.

All you do is push the accelerator pedal the last half-inch beyond the full throttle position—and a-way you go!

Of course, there's a lot more to make a visit to our showrooms the "must" of the new-car year.

There's a step-up in styling as sensational as the step-up in power.

And the step-up in horsepower is this: 236 in the ROADMASTER, SUPER and CENTURY—188 in the SPECIAL.

But the thrill of the year is Buick's latest engineering "first"—and what it does for the man or woman who drives the latest and greatest Dynaflow Drive.

Fog Paralyzes South California

Los Angeles, Nov. 26 (AP)—The worst fog in years continued over the greater portion of scuthern California today, paralyzing transportation on land, at sea and in the air.

The coast guard made a dramatic rescue of a converted navy crash boat, Harmony, that was groping in the murk and unable to radio its position. Using radar and radio bearings, a coast guard boat located the craft in the thick mists eight miles north of Isthmus cove of Catalina Island and took it in tow. Witfi it was a little cruiser that had tried to effect the tow.

Most airports were closed, including the big Los Angeles International, one of the nation's busiest. Scores of traffic crashes were reported in the Los Angeles metropolitan area, but only one death was directly attributed to the smashups, probably because fog prevented speed.

THREE BABIES, each 3 months old, died yesterday of respiratory ailments and the coroner ordered autopsies. Smog was suspected of being a contributory influence, but two of the infants were being given medical care. For the last 48 hours eye-smarting smog has drenched the downtown Los Angeles area, and in Huntington Park, Burbank and Glendale yesterday it was described as the worst of the season.

Fog blanketed the Pacific coast from San Luis Obispo to the Mexican border and pushed from eight to 20 miles inland. Driving on coast highways was dangerous and in cities it was restricted, voluntarily, to essential trips. The fog was not due to lift until mid-afternoon.

FOUR ADULTS and five children were aboard the crash boat Harmony. Its skipper, Frank Champion, received assistance from a cabin cruiser, Jama Jan, which tried to tow her, but both were swallowed in the water-hugging fog and did not know their position. Neither did an unidentified boat that radioed the Santa Barbara coast guard, saying it was on the rocks north of there. A search disclosed nothing.

In a Supreme Court decision, the opinions of all the justices bear equal weight.

Woodside Youth Is Found Shot to Death

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 26 (AP)—The body of a bullet-riddled youth was positively identified last night as Larry Roger Piotrowski of Woodside, N. Y.

Henry Buschbell, the man's stepfather, made the identification while the dead youth's mother waited in a private room of a mortuary.

Law enforcement officers immediately were closeted with Mr. and Mrs. Buschbell in an effort to find some clue to the killing on a creek bank Monday.

Mrs. Buschbell told newsmen she knew of no reason for her son being in this vicinity. He was expected to be in Woodside yesterday "eating Thanksgiving dinner with us," she sobbed.

The body of the 19-year-old was found partly submerged in water with five bullet wounds in the head. R. L. Brown of Prichard, Ala., found it after hearing what he described as shots from a pistol.

Dr. Nelson E. Grubbs, associate state toxicologist, said three shots from a small caliber pistol hit the youth in the back, one in the head and another glanced off.

Persons who saw the youth alive said he told them that he was hunting a job and planned to re-enlist in the marines if he didn't soon find work. He was given a medical discharge from the marines last year on account of malaria eight months after entering.

Officers have said they "may have something on the case soon."

$92,000 Theft

West Orange, N. J., Nov. 26 (AP)—Police last night reported the theft of $92,000 in jewelry from the home of wealthy manufacturer Anthony Desiderio. The loot, police said, was taken from a small wall safe in a bedroom closet by thieves who may have telephoned the home before they broke in through a window. The theft first became known through a 13-state alarm sent out yesterday by West Orange police, but actually was committed last Friday night. A daughter Rachel told police she was the last of the family to leave that night, and that as she was going out the telephone rang. Police quoted her as saying that the party hung up as she went to answer the phone. During the past two months, the Desiderios received many similar calls between 6 p. m. and 11 p. m., Police Chief Harry Hain said. This led police to believe the crime was committed by professional jewel thieves, he added. Desiderio is one of seven brothers associated in the ownership and operation of four paper board manufacturing plants in Whippany and Clifton, N. J., and Durham, Pa.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Get All the Facts; Solve This Crime

A bridge crime was committed in today's hand, and all bridge detectives are hereby alerted. See if you can spot the crime and the criminal.

West opened the four of spades, dummy played low, and East won with the queen. East returned the queen of diamonds and West overtook with the king of diamonds in order to lead the ace of diamonds. Dummy ruffed with the five of spades, and East overruffed with the nine of spades.

East now led the ace of spades and the ten of spades, clearing the trumps out of dummy. Declarer led the three top hearts, discarding two diamonds from his hand. This still left one diamond in the South hand, and South had to lose one trick to the ace of clubs and one trick to the jack of diamonds.

Since the defenders had already taken three trump tricks and a diamond, South was down one.

You are now in possession of all the facts and all the clues. See if you can spot the crime and the criminal before you read on.

South was the criminal, since he should have made his contract of two spades doubled. The crime occurred at the third trick, when West led the ace of diamonds. Declarer should have ruffed in dummy with the king of spades.

East would overruff with the ace of spades and would return the ten of spades to force out the jack, but this would still leave one trump in the dummy. South would eventually ruff a losing diamond with that trump, and would thus make his contact.

Since the play is a bit complicated, let's follow it for a few more tricks. At the third trick dummy ruffs with the king of spades, and East wins by overruffing with the ace. East returns the ten of spades, and South wins with the jack.

South next forces out the ace of clubs, which gives the defenders their fourth defensive trick. If West leads a diamond, dummy can ruff, and East can overruff or not, as he pleases. East is sure to get the fifth defensive trick with his nine of spades whether he takes it then or later.

In any case, South can cash two clubs and then run the three top hearts, discarding low diamonds from his hand. If diamonds haven't yet been led for the third time, South can ruff a heart in his hand and a diamond in the dummy. Either way, the contract is quite safe.

Sentiments Mounting

Berlin, Nov. 26 (AP)—West German societies for Christian-Jewish cooperation warned the Bonn government and the German people today that nationalistic and anti-Semitic sentiments are mounting again in Germany. The joint council of the societies issued a statement noting "with deep concern that nationalistic and anti-Semitic offenses are increasing" and that anti-Jewish forces were rallying again. The statement was sent to West German President Theodor Heuss, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and other government leaders and made public here today.

AUTOGRAPH HUNTERS swamp Johnnie Ray after his appearance at the ball. Ray, "Mr. Emotion" of the music world, left little to be desired with his personal touch of several songs. After his singing, he was given a three-minute ovation before returning to the stage. It was the consensus of the jam-packed auditorium, that with Ray topping the bill, Wednesday's show was one of the best holiday eve programs ever presented by the local Jewish congregation. Counted on Cop to End His Reason for Living

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—Said Sisinio Cruz: "I was despondent. I was sick of living. I figured if I hit a cop, the cop would shoot and kill me."

Cruz, a 34-year-old mechanic, had that to say yesterday after police accused him of:

1. Driving for 15 blocks on the wrong side of Southern Blvd. in the Bronx.

2. Punching photographer Alan Aaronson of (165 E. 179th street) the Bronx in the nose after trying to ram Aaronson's car four times. Aaronson had been trailing Cruz in his car.

3. Punching one cop in the nose, biting another on the thumb, and tussling with half-dozen other policemen.

After being treated for cuts and bruises, Cruz was booked on charges of assault and dangerous driving.

Credits Gambling

Geneva, Switzerland, Nov. 26 (AP)—Harold (Whitey) Dahl told a Swiss criminal court today large winnings at the Monte Carlo Casino financed four days of high living with his girl friend at the famed gambling resort in November, 1953. Dahl, 45, an American pilot and soldier of fortune originally from Illinois, is being tried on charges of stealing gold valued at about $35,000 from a Swissair plane under his command during a Paris-Geneva flight on Oct. 6, 1953. Dahl was arrested two months later after a Geneva taxi driver testified that Dahl carried "a heavy package" when he drove him from Geneva Airport to his apartment on the day of the theft.

Gales Flood England

London, Nov. 26 (AP) — Rain-laden gales sweeping in from the Atlantic brought widespread floods to southwest England and the Midlands today. Winds topping 60 m.p.h. prevented the 81,000-ton liner Queen Mary leaving Southampton with 800 passengers for New York. Around 400 more passengers due to be picked up at Cherbourg later were warned the liner would be delayed, probably until tomorrow. Flood waters covered dozens of roads in the southwestern counties of Cornwall, Devon and Somerset. More roads were blocked in four north Midland counties. Hundreds of motorists had to abandon their cars to wait for the waters to subside.

Enjoyed Jail

Santa Ana, Calif., Nov. 26 (AP)—Sugar heir Adolph Spreckels II was released from the Orange county jail in time to have his Thanksgiving dinner in his Ojai home. He had served 25 days of a 30-day sentence for beating his fifth wife, actress Kay Williams. Although he was unhappy when he entered the jail, he posed for photographers as he was released yesterday and showed them his T shirt, across the chest of which was inscribed in purple letters: "Orange county jail—behind the Orange curtain—1954." "I had a good time here; I'd even like to come back some time," quipped the 43-year-old millionaire."

Milk Spokesmen To Discuss Prices

Washington, Nov. 26 (AP)—Representatives of four leading milk producer cooperatives in New York state meet here today with True D. Morse, under secretary of agriculture, to discuss price-cost problems of the state's dairy farmers.

Ernest C. Strobeck, president of the Dairymen's League, said he had requested the meeting Nov. 19 after the Agriculture Department had declined to hold a hearing on the Class 1-A fluid milk price.

Strobeck said Wednesday that the presidents of the Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Assn., the Metropolitan Producers Bargaining Agency Inc., and the Mutual Federation of Independent Cooperatives Inc. had informed him that they or their representatives would attend the meeting.

The producers contend that dairy farmers in the New York state milkshed have been caught in a steadily tightening price-cost squeeze.

Strobeck said that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson would meet with the organizations' leaders, but not before the end of next week.

The Dairymen's League spokesman said the Co-ops wanted to talk with Agriculture Department officials before Monday, when a three-day meeting of milkshed producer groups opens at Pennsylvania State University at State College, Pa.

Sydney, Australia, Nov. 26 (AP)—An announcement that British officials are coming to Australia to talk about new atomic tests touched off speculation today that a British hydrogen explosion may be in the offing.

Harriman's Run Cost Over Million

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 26 (AP)—The election campaign of Averell Harriman and fellow Democrats and Liberals in New York cost more than a million dollars, and the Democratic state committee ran up a deficit of $434,499.

The Republicans, whose gubernatorial nominee, Sen. Irving M. Ives, lost to Harriman by a narrow margin, spent at least $884,679 for the statewide campaign and the state committee recorded a surplus of $50,146.

THESE FIGURES were filed with the Elections Bureau of the State Department. However, any organization or candidate may file an amended report early in January.

Expenditures by Democrats totaled $1,007,944. Of this $761,166 came from the state committee, which listed receipts of only $326,667.

The Liberal Party, which backed Harriman, spent $73,452, as against receipts of $44,585—a deficit of $28,867.

Harriman and family gave or lent a total of $113,044 to the Democratic campaign.

Harriman listed personal expenses of $17,494. Ives said he had no personal expenses.

AMONG CONTRIBUTORS to the Republican side was Mrs. E. Roland Harriman, wife of the governor-elect's brother. But her husband, although a Republican, chipped in for Averell.

Democratic Committee expenditures were almost twice as heavy as those of 1952, while the GOP committee outlay rose only about five per cent.

Unions Reach Truce

Detroit, Nov. 26 (AP)—The AFL locals reached a truce last night after a smoldering jurisdictional dispute flared into a bloody Thanksgiving Day brawl at the McLouth Steel Corp. plant in the industrial suburb of Trenton. Fifty construction workers slugged each other with heavy wrenches and pipes in the melee. Six of the men required hospital attention after police broke up the tumult by firing four warning shots into the air. Lt. Fred Treska of the Trenton police force said the fight was between Riggers Local 575 and Millwrights Local 1102.

Fog Paralyzes South California

Los Angeles, Nov. 26 (AP)—The worst fog in years continued over the greater portion of scuthern California today, paralyzing transportation on land, at sea and in the air.

The coast guard made a dramatic rescue of a converted navy crash boat, Harmony, that was groping in the murk and unable to radio its position. Using radar and radio bearings, a coast guard boat located the craft in the thick mists eight miles north of Isthmus cove of Catalina Island and took it in tow. Witfi it was a little cruiser that had tried to effect the tow.

Most airports were closed, including the big Los Angeles International, one of the nation's busiest. Scores of traffic crashes were reported in the Los Angeles metropolitan area, but only one death was directly attributed to the smashups, probably because fog prevented speed.

THREE BABIES, each 3 months old, died yesterday of respiratory ailments and the coroner ordered autopsies. Smog was suspected of being a contributory influence, but two of the infants were being given medical care. For the last 48 hours eye-smarting smog has drenched the downtown Los Angeles area, and in Huntington Park, Burbank and Glendale yesterday it was described as the worst of the season.

Fog blanketed the Pacific coast from San Luis Obispo to the Mexican border and pushed from eight to 20 miles inland. Driving on coast highways was dangerous and in cities it was restricted, voluntarily, to essential trips. The fog was not due to lift until mid-afternoon.

FOUR ADULTS and five children were aboard the crash boat Harmony. Its skipper, Frank Champion, received assistance from a cabin cruiser, Jama Jan, which tried to tow her, but both were swallowed in the water-hugging fog and did not know their position. Neither did an unidentified boat that radioed the Santa Barbara coast guard, saying it was on the rocks north of there. A search disclosed nothing.

In a Supreme Court decision, the opinions of all the justices bear equal weight.

Woodside Youth Is Found Shot to Death

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 26 (AP)—The body of a bullet-riddled youth was positively identified last night as Larry Roger Piotrowski of Woodside, N. Y.

Henry Buschbell, the man's stepfather, made the identification while the dead youth's mother waited in a private room of a mortuary.

Law enforcement officers immediately were closeted with Mr. and Mrs. Buschbell in an effort to find some clue to the killing on a creek bank Monday.

Mrs. Buschbell told newsmen she knew of no reason for her son being in this vicinity. He was expected to be in Woodside yesterday "eating Thanksgiving dinner with us," she sobbed.

The body of the 19-year-old was found partly submerged in water with five bullet wounds in the head. R. L. Brown of Prichard, Ala., found it after hearing what he described as shots from a pistol.

Dr. Nelson E. Grubbs, associate state toxicologist, said three shots from a small caliber pistol hit the youth in the back, one in the head and another glanced off.

Persons who saw the youth alive said he told them that he was hunting a job and planned to re-enlist in the marines if he didn't soon find work. He was given a medical discharge from the marines last year on account of malaria eight months after entering.

Officers have said they "may have something on the case soon."

Since the defenders had already taken three trump tricks and a diamond, South was down one.

You are now in possession of all the facts and all the clues. See if you can spot the crime and the criminal before you read on.

South was the criminal, since he should have made his contract of two spades doubled. The crime occurred at the third trick, when West led the ace of diamonds. Declarer should have ruffed in dummy with the king of spades.

East would overruff with the ace of spades and would return the ten of spades to force out the jack, but this would still leave one trump in the dummy. South would eventually ruff a losing diamond with that trump, and would thus make his contact.

Since the play is a bit complicated, let's follow it for a few more tricks. At the third trick dummy ruffs with the king of spades, and East wins by overruffing with the ace. East returns the ten of spades, and South wins with the jack.

South next forces out the ace of clubs, which gives the defenders their fourth defensive trick. If West leads a diamond, dummy can ruff, and East can overruff or not, as he pleases. East is sure to get the fifth defensive trick with his nine of spades whether he takes it then or later.

In any case, South can cash two clubs and then run the three top hearts, discarding low diamonds from his hand. If diamonds haven't yet been led for the third time, South can ruff a heart in his hand and a diamond in the dummy. Either way, the contract is quite safe.

The Christmas Story

Retold in the words of the Holy Bible by Norman Vincent Peale
Illustrated by Valenti Angelo

Introduction

Many men have tried to retell the story of the birth of Our Lord but no one has ever told it so well as those whose words have been preserved between the covers of the greatest Book ever written.

What I have attempted in this story is simply to take those passages from the chapters of the Holy Bible and place them in a somewhat different and more or less chronological sequence. Nothing I select can substitute for the complete story you will find in the pages of Isaiah in the Old Testament and Matthew, Mark, Luke and John in the New Testament. But it is my hope that the words you will find in the story as I have rearranged it will give you a new light on and fresh interest in the Gospels.

This, then, is the story of the coming of Jesus Christ in the words of the Holy Bible (King James version).

Norman Vincent Peale, D.D.

World-Wide Groups Promote Helpful Programs in Africa

Aiming to bring the Dark Continent of Africa into the light of fellowship, international organizations are promoting racial understanding and world peace, said Mrs. Clarence Dumm speaking before a meeting of Sorosis Monday.

The world-wide groups named by the speaker include YWCA, YMCA, Boy and Girl Scouts, Red Cross, Rotary Clubs and Federated Women's Clubs.

The YMCA has native supported associations in Egypt, Liberia and Ethiopia, supported and encouraged by President William Lubman and Emperor Hailie Selassie. A practical program for young men is offered along Christian democratic lines.

Working with young women, the YWCA teaches citizenship responsibility and gives them "a home away from home."

Boy and Girl Scout work is being carried on in several African countries, often under colonial control, but with leadership aid from the US and the full cooperation and support of local government leaders.

Mrs. Dumm continued saying that the American Red Cross carried on recreational and social service work among the Armed Forces in North Africa. Health education courses are conducted by the organization, and international school correspondence among its junior members is encouraged. First-aid stations have been organized and emergency relief has been given in distaster situations.

There are 79 Rotary clubs in Africa, each with its own activities carrying out a program of welfare work.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs has organized groups in three African cities which carry on cultural, social and civic activities.

The meeting of Sorosis was held at the home of Mrs. Lorraine Wood of Highland avenue.

Saugerties Legion Annual Harvest Ball Scheduled Saturday

The American Legion Harvest Ball sponsored by the Lamouree-Hackett Post 72 of Saugerties is slated for Saturday night at municipal auditorium there.

The program will open at 8:30 p. m. with a 90-minute stage presentation of TV and vaudeville stars.

Elaborate decorations will once again be a feature of the annual event. Various colors will be used in addition to red, white and blue Legion banners to transform the large auditorium into an ideal setting for the combination show and dance.

This year the balloon showers will again climax the evening.

The traditional salute to the departed comrades will also be a part of the program. Each year as the hour reaches 11 p. m. a short interval of silence is observed for all who gave their lives in defense of their country.

Doors will open at 7:30 p. m. and this year the Ladies' Auxiliary will operate two checking rooms on the ballroom floor. Refreshments will be available on the ground floor of the building.

EXHIBITING PICTURES OF YOUNG ARTIST

The mother of a young artist writes me: "My daughter has painted quite a few pictures for which she has received prizes. I would like to exhibit these pictures so that our many friends and neighbors can see them. Will you please tell me how I go about inviting them to this exhibit, and also if it is necessary to serve some sort of refreshments? As this is all new to me, I would appreciate any help you can give me."

If there are many pictures and they are being hung in a gallery and shown to the general public, no refreshments would be served. You merely have a card printed, "Exhibition of pictures by Miss Mary Smith at such and such a gallery," and the day (or days) and hours on which they are to be shown. If they are being shown at your house, then you write across the top of your visiting card the day and time the pictures are to be shown and in the lower left corner, "To see Mary's pictures," or to those who do not know her intimately, "To see my daughter Mary's pictures." It would be nice to serve either tea, or punch, with small cakes or sandwiches.

How Long Should They Wait?

Dear Mrs. Post: My fiance and I had planned to announce our engagement within the next two weeks, when his father died suddenly one week ago. I have my ring but do not feel I should wear it until our engagement has been officially announced. I would like to know how long we should wait (out of respect to his father) before announcing our engagement?

Answer: You may announce your engagement any time. That is, tell your most intimate friends the news and send a notice to the newspaper. But no party should be given for at least several weeks.

Inviting Some and Not All

Dear Mrs. Post: May I invite some of my office associates to my wedding and not others without causing bad feelings? There are too many to ask all.

Answer: If there are certain ones whom you know better than others, it would be quite all right to invite these without risk of hurting the feelings of those you do not know really well. But if there are not some who are known to be your especial friends, you should invite all or none.

Have you put off writing that letter because you did not know how to express your thoughts? You will find booklet No. 502, "Etiquette of Writing," helpful. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

World-Wide Groups Promote Helpful Programs in Africa

Aiming to bring the Dark Continent of Africa into the light of fellowship, international organizations are promoting racial understanding and world peace, said Mrs. Clarence Dumm speaking before a meeting of Sorosis Monday.

The world-wide groups named by the speaker include YWCA, YMCA, Boy and Girl Scouts, Red Cross, Rotary Clubs and Federated Women's Clubs.

The YMCA has native supported associations in Egypt, Liberia and Ethiopia, supported and encouraged by President William Lubman and Emperor Hailie Selassie. A practical program for young men is offered along Christian democratic lines.

Working with young women, the YWCA teaches citizenship responsibility and gives them "a home away from home."

Boy and Girl Scout work is being carried on in several African countries, often under colonial control, but with leadership aid from the US and the full cooperation and support of local government leaders.

Mrs. Dumm continued saying that the American Red Cross carried on recreational and social service work among the Armed Forces in North Africa. Health education courses are conducted by the organization, and international school correspondence among its junior members is encouraged. First-aid stations have been organized and emergency relief has been given in distaster situations.

There are 79 Rotary clubs in Africa, each with its own activities carrying out a program of welfare work.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs has organized groups in three African cities which carry on cultural, social and civic activities.

The meeting of Sorosis was held at the home of Mrs. Lorraine Wood of Highland avenue.

Saugerties Legion Annual Harvest Ball Scheduled Saturday

The American Legion Harvest Ball sponsored by the Lamouree-Hackett Post 72 of Saugerties is slated for Saturday night at municipal auditorium there.

The social highlight of the season in Saugerties will feature the music of the nationally famous Boyd Raeburn and his orchestra who will play for dancing until 1 a. m. Formal dress is optional.

The program will open at 8:30 p. m. with a 90-minute stage presentation of TV and vaudeville stars.

Elaborate decorations will once again be a feature of the annual event. Various colors will be used in addition to red, white and blue Legion banners to transform the large auditorium into an ideal setting for the combination show and dance.

This year the balloon showers will again climax the evening.

The traditional salute to the departed comrades will also be a part of the program. Each year as the hour reaches 11 p. m. a short interval of silence is observed for all who gave their lives in defense of their country.

Doors will open at 7:30 p. m. and this year the Ladies' Auxiliary will operate two checking rooms on the ballroom floor. Refreshments will be available on the ground floor of the building.

Christmas Bazaar At St. John's Church Plans Varied Booths

The annual Christmas bazaar at St. John's Church, Albany avenue, will be held Thursday, Dec. 2, sponsored by the evening branch of Women's Auxiliary. The event will open at 2 p. m. in the parish hall.

The Wee Shop will offer for sale an assortment of hand decorated and unique Christmas tree ornaments as well as many evergreen arrangements for the home, and stuffed toys for children. The doll booth will feature hand made doll cothes.

Other booths will be Attic Treasures, and the food booth with home made articles. An amusement room will provide for children while the mothers are shopping.

EXHIBITING PICTURES OF YOUNG ARTIST

The mother of a young artist writes me: "My daughter has painted quite a few pictures for which she has received prizes. I would like to exhibit these pictures so that our many friends and neighbors can see them. Will you please tell me how I go about inviting them to this exhibit, and also if it is necessary to serve some sort of refreshments? As this is all new to me, I would appreciate any help you can give me."

If there are many pictures and they are being hung in a gallery and shown to the general public, no refreshments would be served. You merely have a card printed, "Exhibition of pictures by Miss Mary Smith at such and such a gallery," and the day (or days) and hours on which they are to be shown. If they are being shown at your house, then you write across the top of your visiting card the day and time the pictures are to be shown and in the lower left corner, "To see Mary's pictures," or to those who do not know her intimately, "To see my daughter Mary's pictures." It would be nice to serve either tea, or punch, with small cakes or sandwiches.

How Long Should They Wait?

Dear Mrs. Post: My fiance and I had planned to announce our engagement within the next two weeks, when his father died suddenly one week ago. I have my ring but do not feel I should wear it until our engagement has been officially announced. I would like to know how long we should wait (out of respect to his father) before announcing our engagement?

Answer: You may announce your engagement any time. That is, tell your most intimate friends the news and send a notice to the newspaper. But no party should be given for at least several weeks.

Inviting Some and Not All

Dear Mrs. Post: May I invite some of my office associates to my wedding and not others without causing bad feelings? There are too many to ask all.

Answer: If there are certain ones whom you know better than others, it would be quite all right to invite these without risk of hurting the feelings of those you do not know really well. But if there are not some who are known to be your especial friends, you should invite all or none.

Have you put off writing that letter because you did not know how to express your thoughts? You will find booklet No. 502, "Etiquette of Writing," helpful. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Honors Heart Specialist

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 26 (AP) —A New York investment banker has endowed a professorship of medicine at Harvard Medical School in honor of Dr. Samuel E. Levine, one-time Boston newsboy, now regarded as one of the world's authorities in heart diseases. Charles E. Merrill, in making an initial gift of $400,000 to the university to provide the major part of the endowment, said of Dr. Levine: He has helped me to a great degree from time to time—indeed, I believe he has saved my life." Dr. Levine is clinical professor of medicine at Harvard. A native of Lomza, Poland, he once sold papers on the street of Boston and his education at Harvard College and Harvard Medical School was made possible by the old Boston Newsboys Union.

Geneva, Switzerland, Nov. 26 (AP) — U. S. Consul General Franklin C. Gowan said today that representatives of the Chinese Communist government in Geneva have not yet answered his request for a meeting to discuss the sentencing of 11 American airmen and two civilians as "spies." Washington has instructed Gowan to lodge a protest with Weng Peng Chiu, the Red Chinese consul general here, against the detention of the 13 men. They were captured during the Korean war and sentenced, Peiping Radio said this week, to terms ranging from four years to life. Gowan indicated he did not expect an answer immediately.

Francis Galton, geneticist of 1822-1911, first suggested use of fingerprints for the purpose of identification of criminals.

Montgomery Ends Visit

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower today bid goodbye to his old comrade, Britain's Field Marshal Bernard Montgomery, and then attacked a deficiency in his golf game. Montgomery, who flew down with the President Wednesday for a Thanksgiving vacation at the famed National Golf Club, headed back for Washington early today in the President's new plane. Eisenhower remained at the Little White House here, to get in a little work at his office and try the links again. He returns to Washington Monday. Montgomery, now deputy commander of allied forces in Europe, was to meet later today with the American Joint Chiefs of Staff in the Pentagon.

Harriman at Farm

Harriman, Nov. 26 (AP)—Charles Van Devander, press secretary to Gov.-elect Averell Harriman, says Harriman plans to stay at his Arden Farm near here until Sunday afternoon for the only rest he will take before assuming office Jan. 1. Harriman and his wife spent Thanksgiving Day quietly at their country place. The Harrimans and members of their family attended morning service at St. John's Protestant Episcopal Church at Arden. Then came the holiday dinner at Arden Farm. Van Devander said no political conference is scheduled this weekend at Arden Farm.

Montgomery Ends Visit

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower today bid goodbye to his old comrade, Britain's Field Marshal Bernard Montgomery, and then attacked a deficiency in his golf game. Montgomery, who flew down with the President Wednesday for a Thanksgiving vacation at the famed National Golf Club, headed back for Washington early today in the President's new plane. Eisenhower remained at the Little White House here, to get in a little work at his office and try the links again. He returns to Washington Monday. Montgomery, now deputy commander of allied forces in Europe, was to meet later today with the American Joint Chiefs of Staff in the Pentagon.

Harriman at Farm

Harriman, Nov. 26 (AP)—Charles Van Devander, press secretary to Gov.-elect Averell Harriman, says Harriman plans to stay at his Arden Farm near here until Sunday afternoon for the only rest he will take before assuming office Jan. 1. Harriman and his wife spent Thanksgiving Day quietly at their country place. The Harrimans and members of their family attended morning service at St. John's Protestant Episcopal Church at Arden. Then came the holiday dinner at Arden Farm. Van Devander said no political conference is scheduled this weekend at Arden Farm.

High School Crushes NFA, 41-0, to Share DUSO Title

Port Upsets Middies, 27-14

Beams Sparks Victory Before Record Crowd

Loss Drops Blues To Tie With KHS

A Port Jervis High eleven that hadn't won a game all season reared up and smashed mighty Middletown, 27-14, yesterday before the largest crowd in Port Jervis history.

Engineered by veteran back, Dick Beams, the spectacular Port Jervis victory ruined undisputed championship and forced them into a tie with Kingston.

THE RED RAIDERS who had only a tie to show for seven outings dominated the highly favored Middies from the outset and led 13-0 at the half.

Beams passed seven yards to Bill Decker for the first TD climaxing a 35-yard advance early in the second quarter.

The Red and Black made it 13-0 late in the first half when Dick Pencek streaked 12 yards up the middle at the end of a 24-yard march to make it 13-0.

THE INSPIRED tri-staters ran the score to 20-0 in the third quarter when Beams sneaked over from the 2 after Clint Malzahn had intercepted a Ray Myers pass and returned to the Middletown 26. Beams converted for the 20-0 count.

Fullback Hank King plunged over from the 2 for Middletown's first TD in the fourth period. The drive started on the Port Jervis 42 when Bob Freytag was snowed under trying to punt.

PORT JERVIS took the next kickoff and marched 51 yards on eight plays with Beams going from the 2 and converting for 27-7.

The Middies retaliated with a 58-yard advance in three plays, the payoff a 16-yard aerial from Ray Myers to Kim Smith, with Myers converting for the extra point.

Red Top Davis In Main Event Despite 20 KOs

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—For perserverance, Teddy (Red Top) Davis deserves some kind of a prize.

Loser of 47 fights in a 106-fight, eight-year career, the durable 31-year-old veteran expects to earn his reward tonight when he meets power-punching, 24-year-old Percy Bassett in a 12-round elimbination bout.

The winner of this fourth scrap between the two leading contenders is supposed to get the next title crack at featherweight champion Sandy Saddler. The Madison Square Garden bout will start at 10 p. m., EST, and will be broadcast and telecast (NBC) coast to coast.

Probably no boxer ever has reached Red Top's high position—he's the No. 2 contender while Bassett is the No. 1—with so many defeats on his record. His over-all record is 57-47-2 with 20 kayos. He has been stopped 20 times.

"I WANTED TO quit several times," said the squat, 5-6 Hartford, Conn., Negro. "I had to travel all over the country to get fights. I fought lightweights, welterweights and even heavier guys. I lost so many split decisions I've lost count of them.

With all his losses, Red Top is rated even money in the betting to beat the 24-year old Bassett of Philadelphia. One reason is that he holds a victory over the Philadelphian. Percy beat him in two other 10-rounders, the last time on Nov. 17, 1952.

Perez Upsets Shirai to Take Flyweight Title

Tokyo, Nov. 26 (AP)—Pascual Perez, a terrific little terrier from Argentina, won the flyweight championship of the world tonight by battering heavier and rangier Yoshio Shirai of Japan into a stumbling daze in 15 violent rounds.

More than 15,000 fans saw Japan's first world champion lose in a crisp, November outdoor match in Korakuen baseball stadium.

The fiery Latin, who wasn't given a chance against the champion, won by a wide margin on all three official scorecards.

U. S. Army Major Jack Sullivan, referee, scored it 146-139, Judge Bill Pachecho of Hawaii had it 143-139 and Judge Kuniharu Hayashi of Japan 146-134.

Perez, trailing after 11 rounds, punched out his decision in the last four.

He knocked Shirai down in the 12th with a stunning left uppercut and jarred him into a fumbling wreck in the last three.

Massa and Ashdown Spark Highest Score Against Newburgh Since 1919

Kingston High shares the 1954 DUSO League championship with Middletown High today, thanks to Port Jervis' stunning upset over the Middies, 27-14, and Kingston's tremendous victory over Newburgh Academy in the Turkey Day traditional before 5,000 fans at Newburgh.

Two dynamic running performances by Gene Massa and Ronnie Ashdown and an impregnable line enabled the Maroons to crush the Hill City foe, 41 to 0.

KINGSTON'S VICTORY BY AN UNEXPECTEDLY wide margin enabled the Maroons to tie Middletown with three wins and one setback each It also sent the Maroons over the .500 mark for the season with 4 wins and 3 losses and a tie. The DUSO title is the 8th won outright or shared by Kingston.

Sure-footed as mountain goats in the muck and mire of Academy Field, Massa and Ashdown put on the greatest show of their career.

Stocky Gene Massa, a sure-fire All-DUSO, climaxed a brilliant four-year career by scoring 23 points on three touchdowns and five extra points. He picked up 167 yards in 15 carries for an 11.1 average as the overpowering Maroon offense made a shambles of the Goldback tackles and ends to pile up 371 yards from scrimmage.

Massa had a 76 yard gallop to the Newburgh 16 on Kingston's first play from scrimmage. He later romped for stints of 16, 10, 13, 22 and lesser yardage.

RONNIE ASHDOWN exploded for two long TD gallops, a 33 yarder and one of 63 on quick openers off the tackles. In five carries, the brilliant young back carried for 107 yards, a cool 21-plus average.

The 41-0 triumph climaxed Kingston's finishing kick in history, with 95 points against Poughkeepsie and Newburgh. It was the second highest total ever scored against the Goldbacks. Back in 1919, Kingston routed NFA, 59-0.

The victory was Kingston's 15th in a series in which Newburgh has won 23 times, with three ties. And the tenth win for Coach Bill Burke over Newburgh.

KINGSTON'S SAVAGE line play was a thing of beauty. Newburgh picked up 122 yards it was inconsequential and mostly around midfield. They were thrown for net losses of 61 yards.

The Maroons had touchdown treks of 10, 92, 46, 63, 60 and 6 yards.

Newburgh gained only a yard on three slams at the Kingston line from the opening kickoff and Benosky punted to Massa, who returned to the Newburgh 33 behind smart blocking. Kingston surrendered the ball on downs on the 7 only to have Kingston recover a Newburgh fumble on the 10. Massa went over unmolested on a short reverse and kicked the first of four extra points to send Kingston ahead 7-0.

A NEWBURGH PUNT set Kingston back on its own 8 where Massa electrified the large holiday crowd with a 76-yard quick opener off tackle. Mickey Burkoski hauled Massa down from behind on the Newburgh 16 after Fred Jackson had tried futilely to handle two players with one block. Bob Nash went to the 13 and Massa got the rest, going over from the 5 on fourth try. He plunged over for the extra point and Kingston led 14-0 early in the second period. The drive covered 92 yards in six plays.

A fumble recovery by Nash on the Newburgh 46 set up the third TD. Neil Keyser bulled to the 42 and Charlie Johnson reached the Newburgh 33 on flashy cutback. A moment later Ronnie Ashdown ghosted off tackle on the same quick opener Massa used on his 76-yard jaunt and galloped 33 yards over the goal line without a hand touching him. Massa's placement was wide and it was 20-0 only a few seconds before the first half ended.

ASHDOWN HAULED the second half kickoff to Kingston's 30 and the Maroons moved to the Newburgh 10 before a fourth down pass intended for Fred Jackson was batted down. The Goldbacks moved for a couple of first downs then kicked to Kingston's 37. A moment later Ashdown sprinted 63 yards on a quick opener. He ran in front of the NFA bench, catwalked the sidelines and stumbled to the ground just as he hit the last chalk stripe. Massa's placement was good and Kingston led 27-0 on the last play of the third period.

Two touchdowns in the fourth period sent the Kingston lead soaring to 41-0 and it looked like the Maroons would surpass Newburgh's 46-point total of 1951. Charlie Johnson set the stage for the seventh Maroon TD but Coach Burke cleared the bench and the over-eager subs fumbled on the first play.

KEYSER, NASH and Jim Jackson sparked a 60-yard march for Kingston's fifth TD. A 12-yard spurt Jackson got first down on the NFA 27 after short slams by Keyser and Nash. Kingston was set back to the N 38 on a 15-yard holding penalty, but Massa passed to Fred Jackson who made a spectacular catch and was hauled down on the Newburgh 8. Massa circled left end standing up and promptly kicked the extra point to make it 34-0.

Fred Jackson blocked a Newburgh kick around the 25 yard line and it rolled to the 6 to set up Kingston's final touchdown. Neil Keyser slammed through the left side of the Goldback line standing up and Massa added his fourth placement it was 41-0.

NEWBURGH, never inside the Kingston 36, marched downfield to the K 17 against a mixture of second and third stringers late in the game. Burkoski caught two passes in the sequence but Tex Ritter bobbed up in front of a fourth down pass on Kingston's 17 and carried it back to midfield at the final gun.

No Playoff

Since DUSO League rules prohibit it, there will be no playoff between Kingston and Middletown for the 1954 DUSO championship. Kingston has played its allotment of eight games.

Turkey Tidbits

Closing out his career in a blaze of glory and a rash of touchdowns, Gene Massa got ample revenge yesterday. He had suffered through 46-14 and 39-0 setbacks in 1951 and 1952.

Happiest guy in DUSO League yesterday must have been Ralph Frederick, Port Jervis sports editor who never lost faith and predicted Port Jervis would upset Middletown.

The usual rash of fist fights broke out on the north end of Academy Field, traditional grounds for post-game sparring bouts. One Newburgh special stayed around helplessly.

The north side goal posts were torn down by Kingston rooters a half minute before the game ended. The reason the south side didn't was because NFA was heading toward it.

Crowd was best for Kingston-Newburgh game at Hill City in several years. The 11 a. m. time is here to stay.

The large crowd surged on the north side of the field a couple of minutes before the game ended.

Newburgh's new electric scoreboard, designed for daylight games, is impressive.

C. Everett Stevens, former NFA grid coach and now athletic director, said he was the only guy on the Newburgh side who saw Gene Massa explode off the left side for 10 yards and the first TD early in the game.

Tex Ritter surprised his teammates with his broken field trickery after intercepting NFA's last forward pass a few seconds before final gun.

Fred Jackson was almost kayoed when he blocked a Newburgh punt and sent the ball reeling to the NFA 6. There was an All-DUSO who lived up to his press clippings.

Seixas, the U. S. champion from Philadelphia, whipped 16-year-old Graham Lovett of Sydney 9-7, 6-4, 6-3. Trabert, the former U. S. titleholder from Cincinnati, drubbed Arthur Gubb, Melbourne, 6-0, 6-3, 6-4. Richardson, of Baton Rouge, La., was impressive in eliminating England's Roger Barrett 6-2, 6-1, 6-3.

Big 4th Quarter Routs Express 69-51 in Finale

Jerry Kaplan High With 20 Markers

Back's Cedaraps defeated Rapp's Express, 69-51, Wednesday to capture their second straight YMCA Autumn League "B" crown.

A 24-point explosion in the fourth quarter broke open a 45-45 deadlock. A contributing factor to the late Cedarap surge was Rapps loss of Phil McCloskey and Bibs Kozlowski on personal fouls. The club was never in contention after that.

It was touch and go for three periods, with Rapps tieing the game at 45-45 in the closing seconds of the third period.

JERRY KAPLAN led the champions with 20 points and Red Hinkley bucketed 18. Huyler Van Wagenen hit an even dozen.

Top man for the Expressmen was Frank Tiano with 17 points. Phil McCloskey hit 12.

Giants to Start Herb Johnson Against Browns

Herb Johnson, former West Point and Canadian record holder will start at left halfback for the New York Giants against the Cleveland Browns at the Polo Grounds Sunday.

Johnson replaces the injured Frank Gifford in a crucial game which will determine the Eastern Conference winner in the National Football League.

A rugged 175-pounder, Johnson is the Giants' third best runner this season, with 156 yards in 30 tries for a 5.2 average. He also has the best punt-return mark of 10.5 yards per try.

JOHNSON set five records in the Canadian football league, including a 109-yard punt return. Since no downfield blocking is permitted by the Canadian rules, Johnson ran the distance entirely unaided, a remarkable feat.

His other marks were handling 77 punts without an error and catching 88 per cent of the passes thrown his way.

Johnson is a twisting, squirming type runner who relies more on agility than change of pace than speed. According to Vince Lombardi, backfield coach for the Giants, Johnson would be one of football's greatest if he weighed ten pounds more. Lombardi coached Johnson at West Point in 1949 and 1950.

Port Upsets Middies, 27-14

Beams Sparks Victory Before Record Crowd

Loss Drops Blues To Tie With KHS

A Port Jervis High eleven that hadn't won a game all season reared up and smashed mighty Middletown, 27-14, yesterday before the largest crowd in Port Jervis history.

Engineered by veteran back, Dick Beams, the spectacular Port Jervis victory ruined undisputed championship and forced them into a tie with Kingston.

THE RED RAIDERS who had only a tie to show for seven outings dominated the highly favored Middies from the outset and led 13-0 at the half.

Beams passed seven yards to Bill Decker for the first TD climaxing a 35-yard advance early in the second quarter.

The Red and Black made it 13-0 late in the first half when Dick Pencek streaked 12 yards up the middle at the end of a 24-yard march to make it 13-0.

THE INSPIRED tri-staters ran the score to 20-0 in the third quarter when Beams sneaked over from the 2 after Clint Malzahn had intercepted a Ray Myers pass and returned to the Middletown 26. Beams converted for the 20-0 count.

Fullback Hank King plunged over from the 2 for Middletown's first TD in the fourth period. The drive started on the Port Jervis 42 when Bob Freytag was snowed under trying to punt.

PORT JERVIS took the next kickoff and marched 51 yards on eight plays with Beams going from the 2 and converting for 27-7.

The Middies retaliated with a 58-yard advance in three plays, the payoff a 16-yard aerial from Ray Myers to Kim Smith, with Myers converting for the extra point.

'Cow Trees'

"Cow trees" that grow in the tropical forests of Venezuela and Brazil yield a white nutritious sap that is almost indistinguishable from true milk. It can be drunk as it comes from the tree, used in cooking, or even made into whipped cream.

Red Top Davis In Main Event Despite 20 KOs

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—For perserverance, Teddy (Red Top) Davis deserves some kind of a prize.

Loser of 47 fights in a 106-fight, eight-year career, the durable 31-year-old veteran expects to earn his reward tonight when he meets power-punching, 24-year-old Percy Bassett in a 12-round elimbination bout.

The winner of this fourth scrap between the two leading contenders is supposed to get the next title crack at featherweight champion Sandy Saddler. The Madison Square Garden bout will start at 10 p. m., EST, and will be broadcast and telecast (NBC) coast to coast.

Probably no boxer ever has reached Red Top's high position—he's the No. 2 contender while Bassett is the No. 1—with so many defeats on his record. His over-all record is 57-47-2 with 20 kayos. He has been stopped 20 times.

"I WANTED TO quit several times," said the squat, 5-6 Hartford, Conn., Negro. "I had to travel all over the country to get fights. I fought lightweights, welterweights and even heavier guys. I lost so many split decisions I've lost count of them.

With all his losses, Red Top is rated even money in the betting to beat the 24-year old Bassett of Philadelphia. One reason is that he holds a victory over the Philadelphian. Percy beat him in two other 10-rounders, the last time on Nov. 17, 1952.

Perez Upsets Shirai to Take Flyweight Title

Tokyo, Nov. 26 (AP)—Pascual Perez, a terrific little terrier from Argentina, won the flyweight championship of the world tonight by battering heavier and rangier Yoshio Shirai of Japan into a stumbling daze in 15 violent rounds.

More than 15,000 fans saw Japan's first world champion lose in a crisp, November outdoor match in Korakuen baseball stadium.

The fiery Latin, who wasn't given a chance against the champion, won by a wide margin on all three official scorecards.

U. S. Army Major Jack Sullivan, referee, scored it 146-139, Judge Bill Pachecho of Hawaii had it 143-139 and Judge Kuniharu Hayashi of Japan 146-134.

Perez, trailing after 11 rounds, punched out his decision in the last four.

He knocked Shirai down in the 12th with a stunning left uppercut and jarred him into a fumbling wreck in the last three.

Massa and Ashdown Spark Highest Score Against Newburgh Since 1919

Kingston High shares the 1954 DUSO League championship with Middletown High today, thanks to Port Jervis' stunning upset over the Middies, 27-14, and Kingston's tremendous victory over Newburgh Academy in the Turkey Day traditional before 5,000 fans at Newburgh.

Two dynamic running performances by Gene Massa and Ronnie Ashdown and an impregnable line enabled the Maroons to crush the Hill City foe, 41 to 0.

KINGSTON'S VICTORY BY AN UNEXPECTEDLY wide margin enabled the Maroons to tie Middletown with three wins and one setback each It also sent the Maroons over the .500 mark for the season with 4 wins and 3 losses and a tie. The DUSO title is the 8th won outright or shared by Kingston.

Sure-footed as mountain goats in the muck and mire of Academy Field, Massa and Ashdown put on the greatest show of their career.

Stocky Gene Massa, a sure-fire All-DUSO, climaxed a brilliant four-year career by scoring 23 points on three touchdowns and five extra points. He picked up 167 yards in 15 carries for an 11.1 average as the overpowering Maroon offense made a shambles of the Goldback tackles and ends to pile up 371 yards from scrimmage.

Massa had a 76 yard gallop to the Newburgh 16 on Kingston's first play from scrimmage. He later romped for stints of 16, 10, 13, 22 and lesser yardage.

RONNIE ASHDOWN exploded for two long TD gallops, a 33 yarder and one of 63 on quick openers off the tackles. In five carries, the brilliant young back carried for 107 yards, a cool 21-plus average.

The 41-0 triumph climaxed Kingston's finishing kick in history, with 95 points against Poughkeepsie and Newburgh. It was the second highest total ever scored against the Goldbacks. Back in 1919, Kingston routed NFA, 59-0.

The victory was Kingston's 15th in a series in which Newburgh has won 23 times, with three ties. And the tenth win for Coach Bill Burke over Newburgh.

KINGSTON'S SAVAGE line play was a thing of beauty. Newburgh picked up 122 yards it was inconsequential and mostly around midfield. They were thrown for net losses of 61 yards.

The Maroons had touchdown treks of 10, 92, 46, 63, 60 and 6 yards.

Newburgh gained only a yard on three slams at the Kingston line from the opening kickoff and Benosky punted to Massa, who returned to the Newburgh 33 behind smart blocking. Kingston surrendered the ball on downs on the 7 only to have Kingston recover a Newburgh fumble on the 10. Massa went over unmolested on a short reverse and kicked the first of four extra points to send Kingston ahead 7-0.

A NEWBURGH PUNT set Kingston back on its own 8 where Massa electrified the large holiday crowd with a 76-yard quick opener off tackle. Mickey Burkoski hauled Massa down from behind on the Newburgh 16 after Fred Jackson had tried futilely to handle two players with one block. Bob Nash went to the 13 and Massa got the rest, going over from the 5 on fourth try. He plunged over for the extra point and Kingston led 14-0 early in the second period. The drive covered 92 yards in six plays.

A fumble recovery by Nash on the Newburgh 46 set up the third TD. Neil Keyser bulled to the 42 and Charlie Johnson reached the Newburgh 33 on flashy cutback. A moment later Ronnie Ashdown ghosted off tackle on the same quick opener Massa used on his 76-yard jaunt and galloped 33 yards over the goal line without a hand touching him. Massa's placement was wide and it was 20-0 only a few seconds before the first half ended.

ASHDOWN HAULED the second half kickoff to Kingston's 30 and the Maroons moved to the Newburgh 10 before a fourth down pass intended for Fred Jackson was batted down. The Goldbacks moved for a couple of first downs then kicked to Kingston's 37. A moment later Ashdown sprinted 63 yards on a quick opener. He ran in front of the NFA bench, catwalked the sidelines and stumbled to the ground just as he hit the last chalk stripe. Massa's placement was good and Kingston led 27-0 on the last play of the third period.

Two touchdowns in the fourth period sent the Kingston lead soaring to 41-0 and it looked like the Maroons would surpass Newburgh's 46-point total of 1951. Charlie Johnson set the stage for the seventh Maroon TD but Coach Burke cleared the bench and the over-eager subs fumbled on the first play.

KEYSER, NASH and Jim Jackson sparked a 60-yard march for Kingston's fifth TD. A 12-yard spurt Jackson got first down on the NFA 27 after short slams by Keyser and Nash. Kingston was set back to the N 38 on a 15-yard holding penalty, but Massa passed to Fred Jackson who made a spectacular catch and was hauled down on the Newburgh 8. Massa circled left end standing up and promptly kicked the extra point to make it 34-0.

Fred Jackson blocked a Newburgh kick around the 25 yard line and it rolled to the 6 to set up Kingston's final touchdown. Neil Keyser slammed through the left side of the Goldback line standing up and Massa added his fourth placement it was 41-0.

NEWBURGH, never inside the Kingston 36, marched downfield to the K 17 against a mixture of second and third stringers late in the game. Burkoski caught two passes in the sequence but Tex Ritter bobbed up in front of a fourth down pass on Kingston's 17 and carried it back to midfield at the final gun.

No Playoff

Since DUSO League rules prohibit it, there will be no playoff between Kingston and Middletown for the 1954 DUSO championship. Kingston has played its allotment of eight games.

Turkey Tidbits

Closing out his career in a blaze of glory and a rash of touchdowns, Gene Massa got ample revenge yesterday. He had suffered through 46-14 and 39-0 setbacks in 1951 and 1952.

Happiest guy in DUSO League yesterday must have been Ralph Frederick, Port Jervis sports editor who never lost faith and predicted Port Jervis would upset Middletown.

The usual rash of fist fights broke out on the north end of Academy Field, traditional grounds for post-game sparring bouts. One Newburgh special stayed around helplessly.

The north side goal posts were torn down by Kingston rooters a half minute before the game ended. The reason the south side didn't was because NFA was heading toward it.

Crowd was best for Kingston-Newburgh game at Hill City in several years. The 11 a. m. time is here to stay.

The large crowd surged on the north side of the field a couple of minutes before the game ended.

Newburgh's new electric scoreboard, designed for daylight games, is impressive.

C. Everett Stevens, former NFA grid coach and now athletic director, said he was the only guy on the Newburgh side who saw Gene Massa explode off the left side for 10 yards and the first TD early in the game.

Tex Ritter surprised his teammates with his broken field trickery after intercepting NFA's last forward pass a few seconds before final gun.

Fred Jackson was almost kayoed when he blocked a Newburgh punt and sent the ball reeling to the NFA 6. There was an All-DUSO who lived up to his press clippings.

American Cuppers Win in Australia

Melbourne, Nov. 26 (AP)—America's top three Davis Cuppers, Vic Seixas, Tony Trabert and Hamilton Richardson, advanced today in the Victorian Seixas, the U. S. champion from Philadelphia, whipped 16-year-old Graham Lovett of Sydney 9-7, 6-4, 6-3. Trabert, the former U. S. titleholder from Cincinnati, drubbed Arthur Gubb, Melbourne, 6-0, 6-3, 6-4. Richardson, of Baton Rouge, La., was impressive in eliminating England's Roger Barrett 6-2, 6-1, 6-3.

Back's Cedaraps defeated Rapp's Express, 69-51, Wednesday to capture their second straight YMCA Autumn League "B" crown.

A 24-point explosion in the fourth quarter broke open a 45-45 deadlock. A contributing factor to the late Cedarap surge was Rapps loss of Phil McCloskey and Bibs Kozlowski on personal fouls. The club was never in contention after that.

It was touch and go for three periods, with Rapps tieing the game at 45-45 in the closing seconds of the third period.

JERRY KAPLAN led the champions with 20 points and Red Hinkley bucketed 18. Huyler Van Wagenen hit an even dozen.

Top man for the Expressmen was Frank Tiano with 17 points. Phil McCloskey hit 12.

Giants to Start Herb Johnson Against Browns

Herb Johnson, former West Point and Canadian record holder will start at left halfback for the New York Giants against the Cleveland Browns at the Polo Grounds Sunday.

Johnson replaces the injured Frank Gifford in a crucial game which will determine the Eastern Conference winner in the National Football League.

A rugged 175-pounder, Johnson is the Giants' third best runner this season, with 156 yards in 30 tries for a 5.2 average. He also has the best punt-return mark of 10.5 yards per try.

JOHNSON set five records in the Canadian football league, including a 109-yard punt return. Since no downfield blocking is permitted by the Canadian rules, Johnson ran the distance entirely unaided, a remarkable feat.

His other marks were handling 77 punts without an error and catching 88 per cent of the passes thrown his way.

Johnson is a twisting, squirming type runner who relies more on agility than change of pace than speed. According to Vince Lombardi, backfield coach for the Giants, Johnson would be one of football's greatest if he weighed ten pounds more. Lombardi coached Johnson at West Point in 1949 and 1950.

Army-Navy Spectacle Tops Final Grid Slate

By ED CORRIGAN
(The Associated Press)

The waning college football season takes its final deep breath tomorrow (Saturday).

Action is skimpy but important. Heading the program, of course, is the Army-Navy game, which will be played before more than 100,000 in Philadelphia. Always a spectacle, this year's contest is more important than usual because the winner will be rated the unofficial champion of the east.

BOWL-WISE, they still need a host team for the Orange Bowl, two teams for the Sugar Bowl and the visiting outfit for the Cotton Bowl. The Atlantic Coast, Southeastern and Southwest Conference races are to be decided.

Nebraska, the Big Seven runner-up already has been installed as the Orange Bowl visitor. The Atlantic Coast Conference will take a vote after Saturday's games to decide its representative. If Duke beats North Carolina, the Blue Devils will win the title and the voting will be a mere formality.

Notre Dame entertains Southern California, which will be warming up for its Rose Bowl assignment against Ohio State. The Trojans have nothing to lose but the Irish will be seeking to enhance their national prestige. They were fourth last week in the Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportcasters.

OKLAHOMA the perennial ruler of the Big Seven, is getting into the realm of higher mathmatics and goes after its 19th straight victory. Oklahoma A and M is the intended victim.

Other games on the slim schedule have Holy Cross at Boston College, Miami at Florida, Wake Forest at South Carolina, Louisiana State at Tulane, Tennessee at Vanderbilt, West Virginia at Virginia, Texas Tech at Hardin-Simmons, Arkansas at Houston and Texas Christian at Southern Methodist.

It's a rarity when Thanksgiving Day produces any important decisions, but this year was an exception.

Two conference titles were decided yesterday and a coach may have saved his job.

DENVER and Wichita, both of whom usually spend their time on the outside looking in, emerged on top of their leagues. Denver whipped Colorado A and M 34-0 and thereby won its first undisputed Skyline Conference title in the school's 90-year history.

Wichita won the Missouri Valley Conference crown by beating Tulsa 33-19 to complete its best year ever. Wichita has a good chance of being invited to the Gator Bowl as does Virginia Tech, which completed its first undefeated season in 36 years with a 46-9 triumph over Virginia Military Institute.

The coach who may have had his job saved is Ed Price of Texas. The Longhorns were heavy favorites to win the Southwest Conference championship before the season started but they had a disastrous season. Still they came through with a 22-13 victory over Texas A and M.

CORNELL recorded a 20-6 triumph oven Penn and as a result finished in a tie with Yale for the Ivy League crown. The game concluded the worst season in Penn's history. Back in 1881 the Quakers lost all five games on their schedule. They didn't suffer another all-losing year until 1954—nine losses.

Blaik Expects Navy Surprises Tabs Welsh Greatest Threat

West Point, Nov. 26 (AP)—In past years, Navy has been able to spring a surprise or two on Army in their annual service football game. Not in 1954, though.

"We are prepared for any eventuality, including a Navy single wing or even a double wing," said cadet Coach Earl Blaik before stepping aboard a bus that was to transport the team from the Plains to Newark on the first leg of its journey to Philadelphia today.

"I will say one thing. We are as well prepared for Navy as we have been at any time since I've been coaching here (he's going into his 22nd fray as assistant or head coach). There is less reascn to make a strong prognostication than in any year since the 1948 tie.

"I CAN ASSURE you that it won't be the same as in 1951 when Navy, after using the T-formation all season, came up with the single wing."

Blaik still remembers that game as though it were played yesterday. It was the one in which he had to throw in his Jayvees because of the cribbing scandal which had decimiated the squad. Navy won it 42-7, the most points Navy ever scored in the series.

The coach didn't seem at all worried about Navy's strong running attack and the passing and ballhandling in the option series of quarterback George Welsh. Blaik, in fact, thinks the West Pointers will have to be more on the alert for the passing game. He has been impressed by Welsh.

Trojan Task - Recoup Prestige At Expense of Notre Dame (?)

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 26 (AP) — Southern California, which gets in the Rose Bowl through the back door, so to speak, will try to boost its ego with a victory over Notre Dame tomorrow.

A Trojan triumph over the once-beaten Irish, ranked fourth nationally in the Associated Press poll, would somewhat ease the pain of being flattened 34-0 by UCLA last week.

UCLA, unbeaten Pacific Coast Conference champion, is ineligible to return to the Rose Bowl this time, having appeared there last New Year's Day. So, runner-up USC, with six league victories, has drawn the assignment to meet undefeated Ohio State.

THE TROJANS face the possibility of entering the Rose Bowl game humiliated by three defeats. They already have two—losing 20-7 to Rice early in the season and being blanked by the Bruins, who scored 27 points in the final quarter last Saturday.

The men of Troy couldn't find a much more difficult task than trying to regain prestige against Notre Dame, a two-touchdown favorite.

But don't sell the Trojans too short. They have met the Irish 25 times and in 13 of the games the teams have been only one touchdown or less apart at the finish.

Notre Dame has won 16 times, lost seven and two games were tied.

Last year the Irish piled up a 48-14 triumph over the Trojans in Los Angeles and the year before they knocked USC from the unbeaten ranks 9-0 at South Bend.

The Irish this season have lost only to Purdue 27-14, in eight starts and have allowed opponents only 118 yards per game while gaining an average 250 themselves by rushing.

Army-Navy Spectacle Tops Final Grid Slate

By ED CORRIGAN
(The Associated Press)

The waning college football season takes its final deep breath tomorrow (Saturday).

Action is skimpy but important. Heading the program, of course, is the Army-Navy game, which will be played before more than 100,000 in Philadelphia. Always a spectacle, this year's contest is more important than usual because the winner will be rated the unofficial champion of the east.

BOWL-WISE, they still need a host team for the Orange Bowl, two teams for the Sugar Bowl and the visiting outfit for the Cotton Bowl. The Atlantic Coast, Southeastern and Southwest Conference races are to be decided.

Nebraska, the Big Seven runner-up already has been installed as the Orange Bowl visitor. The Atlantic Coast Conference will take a vote after Saturday's games to decide its representative. If Duke beats North Carolina, the Blue Devils will win the title and the voting will be a mere formality.

Notre Dame entertains Southern California, which will be warming up for its Rose Bowl assignment against Ohio State. The Trojans have nothing to lose but the Irish will be seeking to enhance their national prestige. They were fourth last week in the Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportcasters.

OKLAHOMA the perennial ruler of the Big Seven, is getting into the realm of higher mathmatics and goes after its 19th straight victory. Oklahoma A and M is the intended victim.

Other games on the slim schedule have Holy Cross at Boston College, Miami at Florida, Wake Forest at South Carolina, Louisiana State at Tulane, Tennessee at Vanderbilt, West Virginia at Virginia, Texas Tech at Hardin-Simmons, Arkansas at Houston and Texas Christian at Southern Methodist.

It's a rarity when Thanksgiving Day produces any important decisions, but this year was an exception.

Two conference titles were decided yesterday and a coach may have saved his job.

DENVER and Wichita, both of whom usually spend their time on the outside looking in, emerged on top of their leagues. Denver whipped Colorado A and M 34-0 and thereby won its first undisputed Skyline Conference title in the school's 90-year history.

Wichita won the Missouri Valley Conference crown by beating Tulsa 33-19 to complete its best year ever. Wichita has a good chance of being invited to the Gator Bowl as does Virginia Tech, which completed its first undefeated season in 36 years with a 46-9 triumph over Virginia Military Institute.

The coach who may have had his job saved is Ed Price of Texas. The Longhorns were heavy favorites to win the Southwest Conference championship before the season started but they had a disastrous season. Still they came through with a 22-13 victory over Texas A and M.

CORNELL recorded a 20-6 triumph oven Penn and as a result finished in a tie with Yale for the Ivy League crown. The game concluded the worst season in Penn's history. Back in 1881 the Quakers lost all five games on their schedule. They didn't suffer another all-losing year until 1954—nine losses.

Blaik Expects Navy Surprises Tabs Welsh Greatest Threat

West Point, Nov. 26 (AP)—In past years, Navy has been able to spring a surprise or two on Army in their annual service football game. Not in 1954, though.

"We are prepared for any eventuality, including a Navy single wing or even a double wing," said cadet Coach Earl Blaik before stepping aboard a bus that was to transport the team from the Plains to Newark on the first leg of its journey to Philadelphia today.

"I will say one thing. We are as well prepared for Navy as we have been at any time since I've been coaching here (he's going into his 22nd fray as assistant or head coach). There is less reason to make a strong prognostication than in any year since the 1948 tie.

"I CAN ASSURE you that it won't be the same as in 1951 when Navy, after using the T-formation all season, came up with the single wing."

Blaik still remembers that game as though it were played yesterday. It was the one in which he had to throw in his Jayvees because of the cribbing scandal which had decimiated the squad. Navy won it 42-7, the most points Navy ever scored in the series.

The coach didn't seem at all worried about Navy's strong running attack and the passing and ballhandling in the option series of quarterback George Welsh. Blaik, in fact, thinks the West Pointers will have to be more on the alert for the passing game. He has been impressed by Welsh.

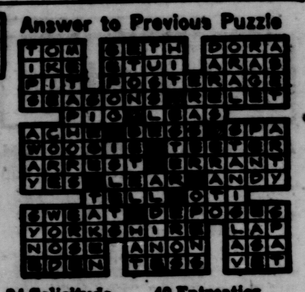
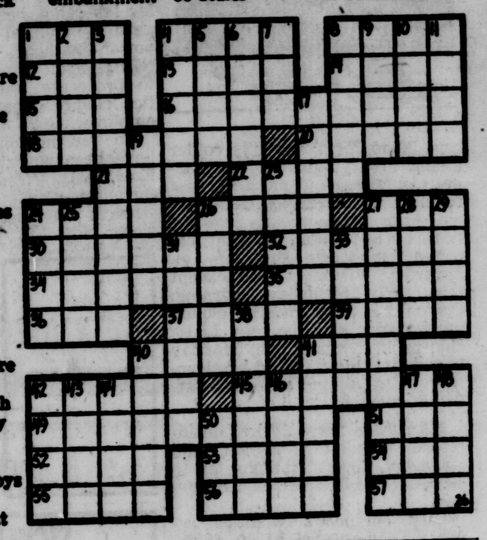
Answer to Previous Puzzle





Advises Russians

Washington, Nov. 26 (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) has told the Russians they should go along with the U. S. disarmament-under-inspections plan so that the people of the world can be freed of the cost of arms. In a Voice of America Thanksgiving Day broadcast beamed directly to the Soviet people, Flanders said America covets no new territory but is spending "huge sums" on armaments because she fears further Russian aggression. The alternative to a costly and dangerous arms race, Flanders said, is the U. S. program for world disarmament.

Advises Russians

Washington, Nov. 26 (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) has told the Russians they should go along with the U. S. disarmament-under-inspections plan so that the people of the world can be freed of the cost of arms. In a Voice of America Thanksgiving Day broadcast beamed directly to the Soviet people, Flanders said America covets no new territory but is spending "huge sums" on armaments because she fears further Russian aggression. The alternative to a costly and dangerous arms race, Flanders said, is the U. S. program for world disarmament.

Kammholz Not Certain for Post

Washington, Nov. 26 (AP)—An air of uncertainty surrounds President Eisenhower's nomination of Theophil C. Kammholz, Chicago attorney, to the important post of general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB).

Some Senate sources, declining to be quoted by name, said today Kammholz may not be confirmed at all—either during the present Senate session or next year, when the Democrats are due to take control of Senate committees.

THE POSITION is a key one in administering the Taft-Hartley labor law because the NLRB general counsel has exclusive power—without consulting the NLRB itself—to decide whether to prosecute unfair labor practice charges against a union or employer.

So far no official objections have been reported filed against Kammholz, whose nomination formally went to the Senate when it convened in special session Nov. 8. The four-year term of the present Democratic-appointed general counsel, George J. Bott, expires in four weeks.

But AFL and CIO officials have said privately that, while they consider Kammholz able and fair, they are not keen to have him in the job because his law clients have been mostly on the management side. And Democratic senators have indicated they would want lengthy hearings on the appointment—thus apparently ruling out action this session because of the Senate's current informal agreement not to take up "controversial" nominations.

Kammholz Not Certain for Post

Washington, Nov. 26 (AP)—An air of uncertainty surrounds President Eisenhower's nomination of Theophil C. Kammholz, Chicago attorney, to the important post of general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB).

Some Senate sources, declining to be quoted by name, said today Kammholz may not be confirmed at all—either during the present Senate session or next year, when the Democrats are due to take control of Senate committees.

THE POSITION is a key one in administering the Taft-Hartley labor law because the NLRB general counsel has exclusive power—without consulting the NLRB itself—to decide whether to prosecute unfair labor practice charges against a union or employer.

So far no official objections have been reported filed against Kammholz, whose nomination formally went to the Senate when it convened in special session Nov. 8. The four-year term of the present Democratic-appointed general counsel, George J. Bott, expires in four weeks.

But AFL and CIO officials have said privately that, while they consider Kammholz able and fair, they are not keen to have him in the job because his law clients have been mostly on the management side. And Democratic senators have indicated they would want lengthy hearings on the appointment—thus apparently ruling out action this session because of the Senate's current informal agreement not to take up "controversial" nominations.
